"Stalwart."

"Gov. Foster thinks Garfield's Cabinet will be 'Stalwart,'" says an exchange. Stalwart is a favorite word with a class of Republicans. We have never seen an exact definition of the word as it is now used. Will some Stalwart Republican tell us what it means? Prior to the Chicago nomination the friends of Grant were called Stalwarts. Then it means a Third Term, perhaps an Empire. What does the word signify now? A Radical of Radicals? A man who gabbles about a big N and favors centralization? One who would have public affairs conducted solely in the interest of party, and would proscribe and denounce as enemies of the country all who differ with him on questions of public policy?

It will certainly be conceded that if ever there was a President-elect who came into office free from pledges and from special obligations that man is Mr. Garfield.—Louisville Commercial.

Nothing of the kind will be conceded. That the public knows or no pledges is no evidence that such pledges were not made. Does the Commercial know what transpired at the Mentor conference?

Brief Mention. In the late contest on the Republican side Beecher represented the Lord and Ingersoll the Devil. The combination of these forces was irresistible.

"A young man of St. Paul died of heart disease while asking his sweetheart to marry him. No timid damsel was ever known to perish during a crisis of this kind."—[Courier-Journal. That may be, but many a damsel would have been saved from much wretchedness if she had thus perished.

The Whipp's Lottery. Some of the courts in Western Kentucky are after the Whipp's lottery scheme sharply.—[Capital Gazette.

We are glad to hear this. There never was a more outrageous bill passed by a Legislature and approved by a Governor than the Whipp's lottery bill. There wasn't the shadow of a pretext for its passage. In violation of a fundamental principle of Democracy and of public justice and morality as well, a special privilege was conferred upon Whipp to dispose of unsalable real estate by a so-called lottery. This Whipp had no claim on the State for public services, and proposed to make no return for the special favor conferred by the bill was to aid him in a private speculation. If Judges and Commonwealth's Attorneys can find a law in the Whipp's lottery law, or a violation of the law in his management, it is to be hoped they will interpose with the severest penalties in the interest of outraged public opinion.

Fought on Kentucky. The Republican Club of Cincinnati last night had a jollification over the result of the election. Among other speakers was our esteemed personal friend but political opponent Gen. Jno. W. Finnell—won by the way, has done more and better work for the Republicans with less recognition than any other man of his party in all this section of the State.

Gen. Finnell is reported as saying that he hoped "the time would come when they could invite their Republican friends across the water to a similar jollification." Why not give the invitation at once? We know of no obstacle but the payment of bridge toll.

We are sorry that Gen. Finnell has a very poor opinion of Kentucky, a State in which he was born and reared and has prospered, and in which he has hosts of devoted friends, irrespective of party affiliation. We quote from the Commercial's report:

Comparing Kentucky to Ohio, he said: "You have eighteen miles of railroad to our one, and we don't do that one." He gave an amusing account of the Kentucky Bourbon, "too lazy to steal and too proud to beg, strutting about cursing the Abolitionists for stealing our niggers," comparing the Bourbon of the South to the Republican of the North, he said, "on the one side it is dishonorable to work, on the other it is dishonorable not to work." We can readily imagine the malicious humor with which this was delivered. But is it a faithful picture of Kentucky or Kentuckians of to-day? Has Gen. Finnell met such a rampaging Bourbon

Kentuckian as he describes within fifteen or twenty years? Is it the proper thing to do, even at a political jollification, to rake over the dead past for material with which to present one's native State in a ridiculous light for the delectation of outside narrow-minded partisans?

Democratic Principles. So-called Democratic leaders are talking about "the inevitable break-up" of political parties, and especially of the "Solid South."

Following every Presidential election for the last twenty years we have been entertained with just such talk. It is idle talk. The Democratic party will not break up. It is founded upon principles as eternal as the hills. A party which has survived the war for slavery and the Greeley campaign and the late terrible blunders of incompetent or dishonest leaders will not fall to pieces because of an adverse result in a contest in which it cast one-half of the popular vote. With the masses Democratic principles are as sacred now as they ever were. They are as precious in adversity as in prosperity. The Democratic masses will stand by their organization and their colors, come weal or woe.

PARIS.

Special to Commonwealth. Accident to Dr. Fithian—Talk of a New Distillery—A Popular Thing in Paris.

Nov. 11.—Dr. Charles N. Fithian met with a very painful accident during a trial of the steam fire engine, Tuesday night. He was acting as nozzle-man, when he was struck on his forehead by the steam striking him in the eye. At the time he was working on his engine, but it is improving. Quite a laughable accident occurred during the above exercise Tuesday night, entitled "Four Runaway Boys" by Mr. A. Hoggeland, of Louisville. It was a comedy in the world that is dear to the hearts of the Paris people. It is a piece lecture, consequently we have a good comedy. Miss Katy Shanks is very ill of inflammation of the stomach.

LEAVINGTON.

Special to Commonwealth. Help Sell New Court Rule—Aspirin to Enterprise.

Nov. 11.—Circuit Court will convene next Monday. By an act of the late Legislature a rule is established for this court. Heretofore answers to petitions were to be filed on the day set for trial. It is now to be filed on the first day of the term, and the Judge will set the day of the trial. The will of James A. Brink was probated Monday. Mr. E. B. Hall was appointed executor of the estate of the late Henry G. Brink. The firm of Cash Spiers & Co. has been dissolved. Mr. Stone will continue business at the old stand. Constable Harry Lusby on yesterday afternoon arrested Miss Florence Lee, a former boarder of Miss Bessie Ward, for "nipping" a pair of gold bracelets from Miss Belle Brown. Quite a number of Misses, but the miss of the bracelets was the most prominent. Emmal will on January 1st, open a large, new wholesale and retail shoe house in the building just vacated by Messrs. Bassett, Watkins & Co. "The more the merrier," say we.

The Hamilton College Monthly is a new, spicy and ably conducted paper, just issued by the young ladies of Hamilton College. It is a thirty-two column volume, and is filled with well written, original prose and poetry from the pens of the young ladies, alone. We are gratified to know that it is meeting with every encouragement, and we wish it were more generally read by the lot of amateur journals.

We are glad to see that Mr. Dick Porter, clerk at the Ashland House, is out again, after a release from his late illness. Fete Floral, correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, is running the local department of the new Ohio paper. Mr. Hartman Spencer, miller at Shikaway, seven miles from Owen, has struck 10,000 bushels of wheat into fine flour at his new excellent water-mill, within the past year. Wendover, the new lively man, who has lately started a street omnibus line to fill the place of street cars wanted, is meeting with the greatest success. You have only to see his crowded "busses" pass up and down Main street in order to judge of the patronage our citizens are giving him. We predict that he will not be many years before he has his own street cars. We are glad to see that the new street railways, which will have been then introduced, will be a great benefit to the city. A correspondent in yesterday's Press under the non de plume of "Euterpe," touches up our sleepy-headed capitalists upon their selfishness and Rip Van Winkle in falling to encourage manufacturers and active business men loitering in our midst. The Southern Railroad has attracted, and the Big Sandy Road is attracting labor, trade and commerce to our city. Numbers of wanted men from a distance have lately been engaged in prospecting tours. These should all be encouraged by both Council and citizens. As "Enterprise" says, let the city "issue bonds for $1,000,000 at 6 per cent. interest, payable in 20 years, and build water-works, street railways, a new Court-house, new jail, new work-house, a hospital and house of refuge, and give over 5,000 idlers work. Appoint a committee of prominent, sober-minded men to correspond with and invite manufacturers to visit and locate among us. Donate to them idle, vacant lots; assess no taxes against them for five years; encourage them to employ their own capital, experience, and our city will blossom as the rose." &c. We say amen to all this, but are afraid there will have to be some 50 first-class funerals in Lexington before it will be started.

Mrs. Annie Wilson has opened a confectionary and restaurant under the patronage of the public generally. There are now over seventy subscribers to the telephone. Sales of extra good hemp were made yesterday at $4 per hundred. Dr. Hennessy has on exhibition at Mr. Jacob Steiner's establishment on North Broadway a strange looking insect that resembles a diminutive turtle. Dr. H. says it is his preserved alive in fresh water since the time they fell from the clouds during a rain storm some years since.

NEWPORT.

Yesterday morning the safe in the ferryboat office, at the foot of York street, was opened by some means, and the contents consisting of $45 in gold coin and $100 worth of coupons, stolen. Officer Connolly yesterday afternoon will stand by his organization and their colors, come weal or woe.

NODLER'S WILD CHERRY

COUGH SYRUP!

The Best Cough Remedy of the Day.

Read the following testimonials and ask your neighbors who have tried the great household remedy for Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and Whooping Cough.

Our 10c. bottles are as large as any others sold for 25c., and our 25c. size as large as others sold for 50c.

COVINGTON, Oct. 1, 1879.

Mr. P. NODLER—For two weeks since I was afflicted with a severe cough and hoarseness. Knowing the reputation of your Cough Syrup I tried it, and soon found relief. As a cough remedy it is invaluable and I take pleasure in recommending it. Very truly yours, L. BARNEY.

COVINGTON, Feb. 15, 1880.

Mr. P. NODLER—I used one bottle of your valuable Cough Syrup for a bad cold and cough. I consider it the best remedy in use, and cheerfully recommend it to everybody suffering with a cold or cough.

No. 14 East Third street.

I have tried P. Nodler's Wild Cherry Cough Syrup, and have had great relief from a cough which has troubled me greatly for some months past.

THOS. J. THROOP.

OLD RELIABILITY ONCE MORE—Having used Nodler's Wild Cherry Cough Syrup recently, and in my family, I take great pleasure in testifying to the public the medicinal results attending the use, and unhesitatingly pronounce it "Old Reliability" in all cases of Coughs, Colds, Asthma and all kindred diseases.

Respectfully, C. M. CLARE.

COVINGTON, Ky., Feb. 9, 1880.
