

LAWING VALLEY REGISTER.

NEWSPAPER OF LAWING VALLEY, KENTUCKY.

GOVINGTON, KY.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 1, 1843.

The members of our oblique friends of the Cincinnati Gazette, we are enabled to place before our readers the report of Capt. Meadmore, relative to the malady and execution of the three rascals. The narrative will be read with deep attention; it is one of thrilling interest. It is long, but it will repay the time in reading it. Our usual selection, already in type, are miserably deferred.

The Weather.

The weather during the week has been remarkably changeable. On Saturday morning last it rained hard; during the night it cleared, and the snow continued to fall till Sunday noon, when it cleared up. The snow fell about 18 inches, affording fine sleighing. The weather exhibited almost all kinds of weather, cold, rainy, hailing, freezing and snowing again. The thermometer ranged from 10° to 45°.

Some mother who brings up her daughter in ignorance of domestic duties, entrusts upon her lasting misery, and her memory will not be erased by a mother's should. If she teaches her how to mend and make clothes, knit stockings, knead bread, boil potatoes and bake pies and breads, she not only renders her daughter a valuable service, by thus qualifying her for future usefulness, but will confer, through her, blessings on those to whom she may become afterwards allied in life pilgrimage through the world. Mothers if you are not rich, leave your daughter to work to understand domestic arts, and good housewifery. Such knowledge will not detract her high standing in society, and then a day may come, yet will come, when it will be to her more valuable than all the coddling and brawlers, that was ever invented. Riches may, and often do, take to themselves wings and fly away, and what then has the unfortunate daughter trained to no useful employment, to depend on? also, abandoning her music and drawing and skills in the fashions, will not entitle the cravings of hunger, nor procure a covering for the body. By these remarks we do not mean to disownne female accomplishments altogether, we do not despise them, we admire them, but we would have the useful blended with the ornamental. If you are poor, your daughters may be taught these useful lessons, which will make them to be of more value than riches. We have seen some of our modern young young ladies, who actually stick up their noses at those who are so incompetent as to understand house work, and not rich at that.

Beauties—If young ladies, wearing these deformities, could but know the hideous opinion of men of sense, and hear the ludicrous remarks often made at their expense, they would as soon be caught with a cow's tail around their necks as one of these things about them. It is certainly an evidence of a vain, foolish mind to wear a tail so ridiculous as a Ladies' Bow-tail. We have been pained to see members of the Methodist church, and daughters of leading men in it, disfigure themselves from nature's handiworkmanship, by taking a task of iron or brass upon their back. They certainly are the most despicable thing that a virtuous woman could wear. See horrible snakish story.
