MY GRACE IS SUPPRICIENT FOR THEE. Sweet word of promise be thou flear To comfort and refresh my soul, Whene'er the dark'ning shales of fear Across faith's cheering landscape roll

When memory tells her fearful train, Of vows inscribed in fleeting sand, Of weak resolves and purpose feath, Be thou, blest conforter at hand.

Speak thou of all-prevailing prayer, Sure title to celestial aid, Of him who will the contrite spare, Of hope, on One that's mighty laid.

The soul most humbled for its guilt, Most self-abased, and self-abhorred, May yet be strong, where strength is bui Upon the promise of the Lord.

From the Baltimore Clipper THE SEASON. THE SEASON.
BY JOHN S. MOORE.
Sweet joyful Spring hath come again,
With singing brds and flowers,
The verdant grass spreads over the plain,
The rose tree, o'er its bowers.

The gentle zephyr stirs the air, And fans the budding trees, The tender stems their blossoms rear, To feel the welcome breeze.

The blue bird sings his carol gay,
Upon some slender sprig;
His mate, near perch'd, upon a spray,
Or on some bending twig.

All nature smiles, the purling brook Runs, sparkling on its way; The very beasts, with pleasure look Upon the bright Spring day.

Judge Owsley.

We learn that the Whig candidate for Governor is winning golden opinions in the North-East. It is believed by some that Col. Butler will not derive as much advantage from traveling with Judge Owsley as his firends pretent to expect. Judge Owsley is an able advocate of Whig principles. He may not be quite as entertaining a declaimer as his opponent, but the people we understand are agreeably disappointed in his public-exhibitions. There is some difference between old Billy Owsley, as he appears defending the doctrines of good Government, and the uninteresting old dolard, as he is represented by his adversaries. We cannot see any good fending the doctrines of good Government, and the uninteresting old delard, as he is represented by his adversaries. We cannot see any good reason why the people of Kentucky should decide against Judge Owsley at the next election. We readily, we cheerfully agree that his opponent is a gentleman of high standing and would personally be very neceptable to us. Col. Butter is a brave soldier, and a high minded gentleman, he would fill the Executive Chair with credit and dignity. Judge O. is a man of unquestioned integrity. He was offered to the people of Kentucky. We have heard it said finat he is about the first man that was born in the State, and has never been without her borders. His tife has been devoted to Kentucky. He was one of the victims by that dreadful re-organizing or dis-organizing act, by which Boyle, Owsley and Mills were repealed out of office, in viction of the Constitution and morality, because of their firm adherence to principle. The people of Kentucky would not submit to the corruption of their rulers, and Owsley was restored.—
