JOHN P. GAINES,

Of Boone County.

We are authorized to announce Dr. JOHN BENNETT as a candidate for re-election to the State Senate for this District.

We are authorized to announce ISAAC MUNDEN as a candidate for the Legislature in Kenton county.

Mr. DAVID HUBBARD is our General Travelling Agent to make Collections, and procure Subscribers and Advertisements. He will visit, during the present and succeeding weeks, the counties of Boone, Grant, Scott, Pendleton, Harrison, &c., and we trust our Whig friends, particularly, will give him a favorable reception.

We are authorized to announce J. W. MENZIES, Esq., as a candidate to represent the county of Kenton in the next Legislature.

The Canvass—Meeting of Mr. Gaines and Col. Tibbatts.

On Monday last the candidates for Congress in this district opened the canvass at Burlington. We were unable to attend this meeting, but all impartial accounts which have reached us, represent that the victory of Mr. Gaines was complete. Below we publish a letter from a friend giving a detailed account of the meeting, to which we call the special attention of our readers. It is from the pen of a gentleman, upon whose word the strictest reliance may be placed:

Burlington, Kentucky, June 3d, 1845.

Ma. BROWN: On yesterday the candidates for Congress, met here in our court-house, to begin the campaign. Col. Tibbatts opened in a speech of an hour in length, which he began, by saying that, two years ago, on the same spot, he had announced himself a candidate, when his friends thought he had but little chance; he had heard of his election with delight, and was again seeking an election. The Colonel spoke several minutes, of pleasant introduction, saying that he had always found it the case amongst sensible men, that when they had an agent to choose, for any purpose whatever, they would carefully cast about, in order to select the most capable man as that agent. If they wanted a lawyer, they would take the man whom they thought best calculated to conduct their business; and so of a carpenter, shoemaker, &c., &c. He supposed they ought to employ the same kind of caution and deliberation in choosing a congressman. I thought at this point, the Colonel was about to say, that as sensible men, his fellow citizens had better choose him, as congressman, in preference to his opponent, because he was the more capable. But I was disappointed, he did not say that exactly. He said, he did not presume he had any superiority personally over Mr. Gaines, but that his experience, in Congress, probably gave him a superiority.

The Col. said, that the Bank and Distribution questions were not practical questions. Nothing could be done with them, under Mr. Polk's administration. The Tariff, Texas, and the Improvements of the Western Waters, were the subjects that he would discuss. He said that he and Mr. Gaines would agree, as to the power of Congress to protect American Industry. He was for protection in the same manner that Jackson, Clay, Buchanan, Benton, Van Buren, Johnson, and Polk were for it. He was for discriminating in laying a Revenue tariff so as to afford incidental protection. He read from all of these gentlemen. He went on to say, that he believed duties upon articles were burdens upon the consumers of the articles, and he was in favor of modifying the tariff of 1842. I wish you could have heard the Colonel. I can't give in the space of a letter, any thing like a full description of the speeches made. But the Colonel's was one of your genuine democratic, tariff, anti-tariff speeches. He was for protection, yet for reducing the present tariff, because it was burdensome and oppressive.

Mr. Gaines requested the Colonel to allow him to reply before he proceeded with Texas, and the Western Waters—which was granted.

Mr. G. said, by way of introduction, that he was a candidate, not of his own seeking; indeed he had uniformly, when spoken to, told his friends that he did not wish to be a candidate. But he was now in the field, to run the race. You may rely on it, that the friends of the farmer, were highly delighted with his effort. In candor, I believe Mr. Gaines triumphed. He planted himself upon the tariff of '42, and fixed the Colonel upon McKays' Bill, for which he voted. He most successfully vindicated the tariff of '42, and showed up the evil designs of the McKay project.

Col. Tibbatts told of his friendship and exertions in behalf of the Western Waters, and went on to Texas for quantity. He said, the people might rely upon one thing, that if he was elected, he would be a thorough-going Texas man, as he had been. This seemed to be his high card; he would have Mr. Gaines there.

Mr. Gaines said in rejoinder, that he would do every thing he could for Western navigation. He had not been so much opposed to Improvements as Col. Tibbatts and his party; but that he feared he would not be able to effect as much as the Colonel, who had been called the father of the western waters. He gave a concise, lucid, and brief statement of our relations with Texas, from the purchase of Louisiana to the present time. He said he had been opposed to the Tyler treaty, because, as Benton showed, annexation from 10 to 100 millions of dollars, and he doubted the power of Congress to pass the joint resolution. He did not believe such a power existed under the Constitution. But the deed had been done. The United States had made a solemn proposition to Texas, pleading the faith of the nation. It was too late to recede, should Texas accept that proposition, without bad faith and dishonor. The question had been settled by the United States, if Texas accepts, it is for sustaining the country. Like Com. Decatur, he was for the country if she went right, and if she would do wrong, he was for the country any how.

Col. Tibbatts seemed to be confounded at this position. He had flattered himself that his great issue was to be made here; but finding Mr. Gaines taking a true patriotic position, to which a reasonable objection cannot be urged, he simply expressed himself gratified to find his competitor "a good Texas-man."

I wish I could give you a full account of this skirmish; but I venture the opinion, that if many such meetings take place, the high expectations of Col. Tibbatts and his friends, may be disappointed.

Yours, &c.

Mr. Gaines and Texas.

Last week we had occasion to notice, a remark of the Intelligence, which we considered a little unfair, because it set Mr. Gaines down, as "dreadfully opposed to the annexation of Texas." The same paper, upon being better informed, still thinks it "strange" that Mr. Gaines should declare himself in favor of the admission of Texas, should he present a Republican constitution to Congress. We cannot see any thing strange in this; indeed we cannot see how he could act otherwise with propriety. Mr. Buchanan, the Secretary of State, has declared, that if Texas accepts the terms proposed, that the business is at an end, and Texas is annexed. We believe opposition on the part of Congress, after such proceedings, would be dishonorable, and unpatriotic. Because a man was opposed to annexation before the deed was done, for which he assigned very good reasons, the Intelligence would, perhaps, have him to take up arms against his country, to prevent the re-annexation on the part of Congress, of the acts of Texas, in accepting the proposition of the U. States. We are glad that Mr. Gaines is not that kind of a man. It would not be in keeping with the conduct of his youth, when he volunteered to fight on the side of his country, in the war of 1812. That he should be willing "to go for his country, right or wrong," appears "strange" to the Intelligence, but any editors, "it may be very patriotic." Strange it may be to be patriotic now-a-days, but nevertheless, commendable. We may be mistaken, but it seems to us, that a due regard to patriotism and the honor of the country, demands the position which Mr. Gaines takes on the subject. If Texas accepts the proposition made to her by the United States, and then the United States flies from her contract, she acts in bad faith with Texas, without curing any bad faith which she may have shown to others, in making the proposition to Texas. Hence we feel bound to oppose a second act of bad faith, which can be only an addition, not a cure, to any wrong previously perpetrated. The position of Mr. Gaines, is no doubt annoying, because it takes away the big prong of Col. Tibbatts' lightning.

The Masonic Celebration.

The Free Masons had quite an interesting celebration in Cincinnati, on Wednesday last. The occasion of this celebration was the laying of the corner stone of the Masonic Hall about to be erected in that city. The procession was long and imposing. The corner stone was laid by the Grand Master of Ohio, with appropriate and interesting ceremonies. After the corner stone was laid, the procession repaired to the Wesley Chapel for the purpose of listening to an address by the Rev. Mr. Strickland. The address is highly spoken of by those who heard it.

The Great Race.—Fashion Successful.

The second trial between Fashion and Peytona came off over the Camden course on the 27th ult., which resulted in the defeat of Peytona. Previous to the race, the lady staging, on which some 3000 persons had assembled to have a view of the race, gave way and fell with a tremendous crash, carrying hundreds with it, and scattering dismay all around. At first it was thought some 200 persons were killed, but we are glad to learn this turned out to be incorrect, no one being killed.

After the accident it was determined to postpone the race, but when it was ascertained that no one had been killed, it was agreed it should come off. The betting was 75 to 100 on Peytona. About three o'clock the two nags were brought out and appeared in condition. Fashion never looked better. Peytona won the inside of the track.

First Heat.—The horses started evenly and together. At the end of about half a mile Fashion shot ahead about a length and a half, which advantage she maintained throughout the heat. Peytona making several struggles but in vain. Time, 7 minutes 48 seconds.

Second Heat.—The horses started evenly and kept closely together, neck and neck, for nearly three miles—but Peytona was a neck in advance at the end of the second mile. By the end of the third mile however they were once more even; and soon after Fashion shot ahead for about a length, and at the close of the race came in, beating her opponent without much apparent effort, by several lengths. Time, 7m 57s.

THE MAILS.

We have had, of late, repeated complaints from our subscribers in Campbell county, in consequence of the non arrival of their papers. The fault is not ours. We regularly mail every Saturday morning all the papers which go to Campbell, and they should reach the post offices in that county on the Monday following. Why they do not arrive we cannot tell. There must be some irregularity in the transmission of the mails to those offices of which we are not aware. If so, we hope it will be corrected.

LUXURIES.—The citizens of Covington will find a frigate article of Soda Water at the Drug Store of Dr. Wise. It is cool and refreshing. The lovers of that delightful beverage, Ginger Pop, can obtain a choice article at A. Clark's Saloon on Madison st., or at R. Lancers' corner of Third and Green. These luxuries during the hot weather are highly recommended by all who have tried them.

APPOINTMENTS.—Col. J. W. Tibbatts and John P. Gaines, Esq., will address the people of Mason, at Washington, on Monday next. The whole of the next week will be spent by these gentlemen in Mason county.

WHISKERS.—Whiskers are defined by a witty southern editor, to be an article worn by goats and those of the human species which most resemble them in character.

The learned and judicious editors of the Intelligence will not let us alone. They are resolved to annihilate us, "as useless as flies" they classically say. Not content as foes of ordinary ferocity would be, with impaling us on the barbed and jagged shafts of satire, they heartlessly, and with a malevolence, which we may well call fiendish, torture us with pungent allusions to our "wit and classic style," in pitiless Italics. If perchance, we have hitherto done injustice to the Locofoco party by assimilating them to the Jacobins of Revolutionary France, we insist that such a comparison is as much too weak now, as it was then too strong. For we contend that, neither Danton nor Marat, Couthon nor Robespierre nor any other of the worthies of the reign of terror ever thought of slaying an unfortunate antagonist with Italicized sarcasm.

The editors of the Intelligence in their last paper, say, that they "saw, we had not the moral courage to recall" an old paragraph published in the Maysville Eagle, in which it was asserted that Col Tibbatts declared, during the canvass with Maj. Wall, that he was in favor of the Tariff of '43. We can tell the editors that we have the moral courage to make any recantation we deem to be right. If they "saw" that we had not the moral courage to do this, they must indeed possess most extraordinary powers of vision, for

"Optics keen, it takes I ween To see that which cannot be seen."

But in regard to the question, whether Col. Tibbatts declared himself in favor of the Tariff of '42 in the canvass of '43, we think it scarcely necessary to say a word. All that we know personally on the subject is contained in our letter to the editor of the Commonwealth, which was published in his reply to Tibbatts. That reply is before the public and we leave it to the people to decide the issue. We did not hear Col. Tibbatts assert, in plain and direct language, that he was in favor of the Tariff of '43; but he declared—and we presume no one will gainsay this—that he was "better Tariff man" a better protectionist—than Maj. Wall; and although he may have objected to some of the details of the bill, yet he made the impression on the friends of the tariff that he was in favor of the protection-features of the act of '43. This impression, we have no doubt, he designed to make, and but for his success in the matter, we believe he never would have been in Congress. But as before remarked, the evidence in the case has been laid before the people and we are not disposed to agitate it further.

"The editor of the Register will never be done with Jacobinism," Intelligence.

Does the Intelligence mean to say that we will never be done with Locofocoism? If so, it may be right. As long as Locofocoism shall exist and we are permitted to wield a pen, we will continue to warn the people against its baneful influences.

DEPENDANCE UPON THE NORTH.—The Augusta Chronicle thus sums up the dependance of the South upon the North:

They build our houses, they adorn them with furniture, and supply them with every comfort and convenience of which we have ever conjectured. They educate our children, and cover our nakedness from head to foot. With hats and shoes, coats and shirts—we eat their flour, cheese, butter, apples, codfish, potatoes, pickles, pork, and onions—we feed our cattle with their hay, drive their horses in their harness to their carriages, with their whips—we walk with their sticks, ride on their saddles, write on their paper, wash with their soap, scrub with their brushes, sweep with their brooms, milk in their pails, cook in their pots, strike with their hammers, blow with their bellows, cut with their axes, sow with their seed, reap with their hooks, pull with their leather, white-wash with their lime, paint with their paint, march to their times, read by their lights, drink their Congress water and rum, smoke their segars—and last and best of all these blessings, we marry their pretty girls, who make the best of wives.

JCHILE DOUBLE BROTHER JONATHAN.—We have received from the New York publishers a very magnificent sheet for the Fourth of July, containing some fifty or sixty fine large National Engravings, and an illustrated Declaration of Independence, with engraved signatures of the fifty-six signers. The contents comprise historical incidents, anecdotes, songs, glories and romances of the revolutionary war and of the last war, notices of remarkable revolutionary characters, &c.

Washington's reception by the ladies of Trenton, a beautiful picture, occupying half a page of this stupendous newspaper, is worth double what the paper itself costs, which is but 12 1/2 cents per copy.

We learn from a Boston paper that a relative of M. Gouraud, 'the memory man,' as he is called, has died in France, and left to him a pretty fortune of 15,000 francs, or something more than 2,000 dollars.

John Daly and John Paul, and Henry Haughey, convicted of participation in the Kensington riots, have been sentenced to confinement in the Eastern Penitentiary, the two former for four years, the latter for two.

We are happy to learn that there was no truth in the rumor that killed the old Hero of the Hermitage.

Two young females were sentenced to Lowell, on Wednesday, to the House of Correction for six months, for lascivious conduct. The magistrate is said to be a very old man.

John B. Hogan, an old citizen of Mobile, died a few days since.

There will be no less than four members of the corps editorial in the Virginia Legislature next winter. One in the Senate and three in the lower House.

The work of removal is going on with renewed energy in Washington.

NORTH CAROLINA.—The Whigs of Edenton District have nominated David Outlaw for Congress in place of Mr. Cherry, deceased. The election in North Carolina takes place in August.

AVAILANCE.—The following paragraph is from the Jamaica Morning Journal: "Passengers arrived at Jamaica by the Royal mail schr. from South America, report that they heard, previously to their departure of a fearful avalanche, the effect of which had been felt on both the Atlantic and Pacific sides of the great and central Cordilleras of the Andes. The snow descended in fearful quantities from the Paramo de Ruiz, which is situated on the Western side of the plains of Mariquita, and from 150 to 200 miles of Bogota, and destroyed a large and populous district. It is supposed that twelve hundred lives were lost by this calamity."

Dr. Meiden Somerville, who served out a sentence of two years in the Maine State Prison, has published a pamphlet in which he reflects severely on the system of imprisonment practiced at that institution. The newspapers in Maine call on the Warden to make an explanation of the matter.

Thus do we occasionally give to our readers, a specimen of the wit and classic style of the editor of the Licking Valley Register.—Kentucky Intelligence.

'Tis a pity our neighbors cannot "give to their readers a specimen" of their own wit and classic style.

See the card of R. Mitchell; dealer in Furniture. He keeps on hand a fine and cheap assortment of articles in his line.

A man in Lowell, Mass. has in his possession the first gun that was fired upon the British in the revolutionary war.

The Toledo Blade says, "The rich copper mine on Eagle river, Lake Superior, turns out to have a greater value in silver than in copper. In a ton of the rock ore as delivered by the miner on the bank, Dr. Jackson found by analysis, that there was of silver $87.25, and copper $12.10.—There seems to be unlimited riches in the transition rocks south of Lake Superior.

BUFFALO.—The city of Buffalo has advertised to receive sealed proposals for a loan of $20,000 until the 15th of June, payable $5,000 in two, $5,000 in three, $5,000 in four, and $5,000 in six years.—The object of this loan is to redeem the outstanding floating debt of the city.

Hon. Caleb Cushing has placed a fine portrait of Kaying, the Imperial Chinese Commissioner, with whom he concluded his treaty, in the Athenaeum Exhibition, this year, at Boston. It is from the pencil of a Chinese artist, and is said to be an admirable likeness.

HENRY CLAY.—Mr. Colton has his Life and Times of Henry Clay nearly ready for the press. It is to appear in two octavo volumes, of one thousand pages each. The author has all the private, as well as public correspondence of Mr. Clay; to aid him in his work. He has had access to every source of information on the biographical and historical facts, which he may wish to embody or illustrate. From what we know of the author's ability and industry, we are led to anticipate a work of deep and general interest.—Phila. North American.

NOT SO BAD.—All sorts of jokes are being cracked about the two crack fiddlers, Peytona and Fashion. Here is the last.—"Why, Sam, I thought you was too much of a sailor to be seen at a horse race?" "Horse race!" responded Sam; "this is a mare-a-time performance, ain't it?"

SINGULAR DEATH.—The Cincinnati Commercial of Monday states a German man living over the canal had one of his back teeth pulled out by a physician on Saturday morning last, and, strange to say, he died instantly in about 45 minutes after the operation. It is one of the most remarkable facts we remember to have heard of.

STEAMBOAT SUNK.—Three Lives Lost!—The steamboat Cotton Plant was sunk lately on Red River—boat and cargo total loss. Three persons not known were drowned.

The Washington Union announces that the President has determined, in all appointments to Consuls, to nominate American citizens where it is possible. This is a good move.

The small-pox is prevailing very extensively in New York. There have been already this year over 100 deaths by it, chiefly within the last few weeks.

ANTI-RENT TROUBLES.—Two Men Shot.—The anti-renters in Hudson county, N. Y., are again violating the laws, having on Friday last shot at and wounded Sheriff Sedgwick and his deputy while in the discharge of their duty.

Later from Texas.

By the arrival at N. Orleans of steamer New York, we have dates from Galveston to the 23d ult. Among the passengers was Genl Saml. Houston, en route to the Hermitage.

The United States squadron under the command of Com. Stockton arrived and anchored off Galveston on the 12th inst.

The only news of any importance is the proclamation of President Jones, convening a convention at the city of Austin on the 4th July next, for the purpose of considering the proposition for the annexation of Texas, and another proposition which may be made, concerning the Republic.

No mention is made of the arrival of Capt. Elliott.

Our Candidate.

Speaking of the Covington Convention, the Cincinnati Gazette remarks: "After consultation, and on the first ballot, we learn, JOHN P. GAINES was chosen. He is a farmer of the right stamp: one who plants and works with his own hands, and who, in this emergency, has really to quit the plough to answer this public call. He has represented Boone Co. on several occasions, always with intelligence and independence, as will be the case if he goes to Washington as the representative of the District of which he is essentially an honest man. We hope our friends will turn out and do their duty like men. They have a man of character to vote for, and if love for the cause, and respect for him, cannot secure their full strength in August next, they cannot be relied upon when any great principle is at stake."

Whigs of the Tenth District! Look to the cause, the country and do your duty.

Bob Letcher vs. Hard Times.

We learn from the Louisville Courier, of Tuesday, that this case had been decided. The following is the verdict of the jury: "We of the jury find for the complainants six teen thousand dollars ($16,000) in damages, being one half the amount of the total loss." JAMES TRABUE, Foreman

The News from Mexico.

The news from Mexico is of a highly interesting nature. We give a condensed account of all the important items brought by the late arrivals, beginning with the Titi.

On the 21st, SENOR CUERVAS, the Minister for Foreign Affairs, submitted to the Chamber of Deputies a communication suggesting another project for the arrangement of the Texas question.

The document discloses two interesting facts—first, that a large military force has been concentrated on the borders of Texas; and second, that overtures have been made to Mexico by the Texan Government for a recognition of her independence.

The New Orleans Bee states that the Mexican Government, in the event of the failure of the proposed negotiations is preparing for war. The authority of Congress has been required, in order to contract a loan of three millions of dollars, at an interest not greater than fifteen per cent. Authority has likewise been asked for the settlement of the foreign debt of Mexico.

On the 16th of April, Congress passed a resolution allowing Santa Anna and Canallizo to expatriate themselves, within eight days, for ten years. If they refuse, the prosecutions against them are to be urged forward.

The earthquake in the city of Mexico had ceased. From the Departments accounts continue to arrive of the devastation caused by those of the 7th and 10th ult.

Two projects are before Congress, growing out of the Executive message signed by Cuervas.

The first considers that the law of Congress of the United States in no respect impairs the right of Mexico over Texas: that it has violated the treaty between the two countries, especially that in relation to boundaries; and that Mexico could learn herself and repel the threatened usurpation by force.

The other project calls all Mexicans to arms, and authorizes the government to arm the permanent and active militia, and gives the Administrative power the necessary means from all sources.

The barque Eugenia, arrived at New York, also brings some important news.

The United States squadron consisting of the steamer Princeton, and other vessels, under the command of Commodore Stockton, had arrived at Vera Cruz five days before the sailing of the Eugenia. The usual friendly salutes were exchanged between the squadron and the Mexican fortifications.

The British Minister for Texas had arrived at Vera Cruz in a vessel of war from Galveston, and proceeded by express to the city of Mexico. The friends of Santa Anna are rapidly extending their influence throughout the Republic, and his restoration to power is looked upon as highly probable, if not certain. The influence of Senor Almonte, late Minister to this country, has been exerted with great effect in favor of Santa Anna.

The earthquake of the 7th April was disastrous in the interior; the Villa de Rio Blanco was left a mass of ruins; and half the inhabitants were overwhelmed by the opening of the earth. Frightful chasms opened and closed alternately in the streets, swallowing the inhabitants as though huge monsters were feeding upon human beings.

The brig Somers arrived at Pensacola, bringing Mexican dates to the 10th of May. The Pien-yu Extra publishes a full account of the news brought by the Somers, from which we extract the following:

1. "That a secret negotiation is going on between Texas and Mexico under the auspices and protection of the British Government; and that the British vessel of war Argentine is in conducting the conspirators to and from Mexico; and that the basis of this negotiation is avowed hostility to the purposes of the United States."

2. "The bill allowing the Minister of Foreign Affairs the power to negotiate a Treaty with Texas for the Independence, with the provision that she shall not be annexed to the United States, passed the Mexican House of Representatives on the 3d inst, by a vote of 41 for, to 13 against it, after a stormy debate of three days. It was immediately sent to the Senate, where it was believed it would be concurred in unanimously. A report to that effect reached Vera Cruz some days before I sailed, but the last mail, of the 16th, brought no confirmation of it."

Capt. Elliott, English Charge to Texas, had been the city of Mexico several weeks, accompanied by a Mr. SMITH, SECRET AGENT FROM THE GOVERNMENT OF TEXAS. They arrived from Texas on the 11th of April, in the British frigate Eurydice. He had returned to Vera Cruz, and was waiting the action of the Senate on this bill when I sailed. When the result was known, that he would return to Galveston with it, in the same vessel."

Upon the 2d of this month Senor Canedo, formerly a member of the Mexican Congress, took passage from Vera Cruz in the American barque Eugenia, for New York, upon a diplomatic mission from the Government of Mexico to that of the United States; but his departure was not known until it was announced in the morning newspapers of 10th inst.

The statement before us accounts for the mysterious appearance of the Relampagos and water—as we suppose this is the vessel alluded to in the following extract: "When the English merchants at Vera Cruz heard of Senor Canedo's departure, they chartered a schooner for New Orleans, which sailed on the 10th inst. The following evening we saw her with passing sail, about 8 o'clock, a vessel very much like her, standing upon the same course with us."

In regard to the American squadron at Vera Cruz, we have the following information: "The arrival of our squadron at Vera Cruz created a great excitement, and also in the city of Mexico, where it was represented to consist of twenty-one sail of men of war! The unexpected presence of this squadron had, no doubt, a salutary influence, and possibly might have caused the union, so privately determined upon, to the United States."

Of Mr. Shannon we hear this much: "Mr. Shannon, late American Minister, had engaged his passage in an American vessel, and would sail about the 15th inst. for New York. It does not appear that he possessed any knowledge of the political affairs of the capital of Mexico, and he is not considered in any other light than an obscure American Citizen, whose name is never alluded to as one at all connected with the important transactions of the day."

The Yellow fever begins to show itself in Vera Cruz, which we believe is always the case at this season of the year.

The officers and crew of the squadron enjoyed good health, but were getting tired lying at anchor under Green Island, (Isla Verde) without having any communication with the shore, and upon an allowance of fresh water, with the thermometer averaging 82 deg. to 83 deg., and exercising at general quarters so much in that enervating climate.

The Somers was to have left Pensacola on the 2d inst. returning immediately to Vera Cruz.

It is stated that an old lady in Iowa, while recently in the woods, was bitten on the end of her nose by a rattlesnake. The old lady declared that the snake didn't die! Coroner's verdict—poisoned by snuff.—Jo Miller.

COMMUNICATIONS.

For the Register.

Answer to Justice's Last Card.

"Let the Heavens rage"

Yours, respectfully,

J. BENNETT.

To the Editor of the Register.

The object of this communication is purely practical. The intention of the writer, is to call public attention to the continual existence of an evil, which although not of that aggravated character against which nature herself makes outcry; is yet sufficiently important annoyance to merit its share of attention in these "piping times" of political peace. The subject is the present Militia system of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Since the condemnation, by the American people, of the renowned project of Martin Van Buren, known as the "standing army of 200,000 men," the question of amending the Militia system in any respect, has been deemed rather ticklish. It has not however been so regarded, because the present plan is a popular pet. All men of all parties unite in reproaching the present organization of the Militia as a downright nuisance. All agree that little or nothing is learned in tactics and discipline by the soldiers; while much is learned that requires to be unlearned before he is fit for actual service, and all agree that it occasions a serious loss to the wealth of the community, by calling the laborers from their proper pursuits, and wasting much of their valuable time in unprofitable trifling. There is no need at this time to illustrate the absurdities and faults of our present system. All that satire, all that argument can do for that purpose, have often been done; and the experience of every unlucky wight who has sweated and blundered through the clumsy evolutions of a battalion muster or regimental drill, is appealed to as conclusive evidence of the folly and inutility of these solemn and stupid farces. While we contend most strenuously for an efficient and respectable organization of the Militia, which was designed by our Revolutionary sires as the right arm of Republican power and the body guard of Freedom, we are constrained to join in condemning its present shape and organization, because they render it rather to cripple, than to strengthen that patriotic arm. Then why not amend it? Why not give our citizen soldiery that discipline and Military character, which will make, them as soldiers respectable at home, and formidable to the rest of the world. The present aspect of our foreign relations seems imperatively to demand that something should be done; but the verdict of the people against Mr. Van Buren's plan has made our politicians generally rather tender footed upon the subject of attempting any modification or amendment. They appear to forget that the standing army of 200,000 men was only rejected because its inherent faults made it more objectionable than the present system; because it assumed powers highly foreign to its character and, derogatory to State rights; and as dangerous in practice, as undemocratic in conception; and besides because its tendency was to increase immeasurably, instead of diminishing the burdens of the people. If however a plan can be proposed which is free from all the objections which were urged with such killing force against that project, which will infuse a proper Military pride in the country, which will at the same time alleviate the present burdens of the people, and give efficiency and respectability to the Militia; it cannot fail to be acceptable to the freemen of Kentucky. The question is, can such a plan be devised? the answer—It has been. Our worthy Senator, Dr. Bennett, proposed in the Kentucky Legislature last winter, a plan, which is entirely free from all political objection and which merits the serious attention and ultimate adoption of this people; and to him all the credit of its paternity is due, and by his influence in the next Legislature, we may expect to see it matured and declared the law of the land.

The more important features of Dr. Bennett's plan are as follows:

Sec. 3. Be it further enacted that it shall be optional with every person enrolled in the militia of this State, either to become an active enrolled member of some volunteer company, or pay annually, as a commutation for military duties the sum of $5.00; which sum may be paid to the sheriff of the county in which he resides, or the paymaster of his regiment, the receipt of either for such sum, for such commutation, shall be his discharge from military duty during the current year.

Sec. 4. FRESH supply of the following valuable Medicines just received and for sale by T. BIRD, Apothecary and Druggist, Covington, Ky.

THE SICK-HEADACHE, EITHER NERVOUS OR BILIOUS.
An attentive perusal of the following will, it is believed, fully repay all classes of readers: HEADACHE.—The disease is one from which arises more misery to the human family than is generally supposed; not being directly fatal, it is often neglected, or persons resort so much to the use of purgatives and other medicines, as to impair their general health, and often incur fatal diseases. The article, DR. SPOHN'S HEADACHE REMEDY, from COSMOS and Co., now offered seems to have overcome these difficulties. While its effects are most powerful and immediate in curing an attack of headache, it is so perfectly mild and innocent as to be used for infants with the greatest effect and safety. This has now been tested by so many of the highest members of this community as to require no further proof. It has been taken a few times in as many hours, when there are indications of an approaching attack, it is sure in all cases to prevent the attack. If used for a few weeks, the premonitory symptoms gradually subside, until they wholly disappear, and need not be feared in either a neural or predisposing cause, return. If the person neglects to use it till the headache commences, it sometimes cures instantly, but at others the turns will have their course for two or three times, and then wholly disappear. Rev. Dr. BATHOLOMEW'S FINE EXPECTORANT SYRUP.

An agreeable Cordial, and Effective Remedy for Coughs, Hoarseness, Colds, Pain in the Breast, Influenza, Hard Breathing, and Difficult Expectoration. Adults and Children in cold, climates and warm. It has remained to a late day to discover any so powerful and effective, and yet so perfectly innocent and mild.

Let not the public the scientific result of a learned Physician and Divine with the nostrums of the day. Let them make a careful perusal of the evidences attending this article; their responsibility, and the wisdom of the course which they speak, and they cannot withhold their belief to some of its virtues. Let us assure them that a single trial of it will do more to convince all of its merits than all they can see or hear on the subject. It is now known to arise from its free use.

Cleanliness of the Head and Hair.
Strange it is that persons who attend strictly to personal cleanliness, and, as should, neglect the head—the hair—the most essential—the most exposed—and the most beautiful, when properly cared for, of all the gifts of the Creator. Perfectly free may it be kept of dandruff or scurf, with a certainty that the hair cannot fall out, by the use of the BALM OF COLUMBIA. Ladies, will you make your toilet without this article? Answer fearlessly no, if you have once tried and experienced its purifying effects—its sweet perfume.

HAYS' LINIMENT.
NO FICTION.—This extraordinary chemical composition, the result of science, and the invention of a celebrated medical man, is now used in the principal hospital, and in the private practice in our country by an immense number of individuals and families, first and most certainly for the cure of the RHEUM, and also extensively and effectively as to baffle credulity, unless when its effects are witnessed. Externally in the following complaints: Croup and Whooping-Cough—Externally and over the chest. ALL BRUISES, SPRAINS, and Burns—Curing in a few hours. Its operation upon adults and children in reducing rheumatic swellings, and loosening coughs and tightness of chest by relaxation of the parts, is beyond all surprise beyond conception. The common remark of those who have used it in the PILES, is, "It acts like a charm."

ASTONISHING FACT. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 4, 1845. I HEREBY certify that when I was about 12 years old, I gradually became deaf in both ears, so that in a few months I found it almost impossible to hear, unless in the very loudest tones of voice. I remained in that situation until last summer, a period of eighteen years. I heard of Scarp's Compound and decided to try it. I immediately obtained a bottle, which I used, and am happy to say it did exactly what I wanted, and quite cured me. Any one wishing further information of my case, which I think a remarkable one, will find me by calling at my residence, Concord street, first door above Second street. MRS. REBECCA BAXTER.
