From the Cincinnati Daily Commercial. My Wife and Child.

BY LITTLETON T. LACY. On one bright and beautiful day in June, I was seated in the bar-roam of a hotel in the city of Pork, with a newspaper lying negligently upon my knees, and with my eyes half closed, in a deep reverie. My thoughts were none of the most pleasant, for who can reflect for a moment upon hopes blasted, no matter how small they may have been, without a pang shooting through the brain, regretting that our desires can never be consummated. Who can see a bright career of glory, worldly prospects and the hearts holi-est affections wrapped in the shroud of hope and sunk deep, deep in the fathomless sea of despair, without a sigh or a tear. Few can do it—yet I did, yea, I had laughed heartily several times at the ridiculous figure cut by myself-in a recent love affair, and was about to perform the same agreeable act again, I felt a slight tap on the shoulder.

"A lady wishes to see you in the sitting room," said a waiter. "A what?" "A lady."

"A lady?" "Yes sir, a lady." "Is she male or female-I-I mean is she narried or single."

"Married I guess, for she has a child in her rms. Good, I thought; a married lady I was not afraid of, but a single one would almost throw me into spasms. They are as thick as the locusts of Egypt and quite as pestiferous, for I really believe that the fibers of a man's heart, they think, are so many strings well tuned, especially for their entertainment, and that they have a fee simple right to play upon them, even as much so. as upon the chords of their own guitars or harps. The squeals, groans, moans and agonising cries of their torture l victims, however horrifying to others, is to them the sweetest music that ever fell upon human ears. I like a married woman for her benevolent disposition in taking but one heart to keep in perpetual terment, while to all the world besides she professes to be but a part and parcel of her less half. "Married woman," soliloquised I, arising from my chair, "lets see-may be she wants my professional services-wishes to be divorced from a hen-pecked husband, who, for the first time in his life has raised spirit enough to tell her that she was a shrew.— Well, well, I will perpetrate one benevolent act in my life, by making one man happy." Arising at this sage conclusion, I pushed my fingers through my hair, put on a professional look and entered the sitting room. Standing by the window on the opposite side of the room was a lady to all appearances young. and belonging to the "Upper ten Thousand, for she was dressed a la mode, and seemed to have the bearing of haughty beauty suddenly thrown from her high position by some calamity or disappointment. She was standing with her back to me in a meditative, sentimental attitude, and seemed to look despondingly upon the child that she held in her

I was about falling on my knees and acknowledging my inconstancy, and ask her forgiveness, when the little pocket edition of humanity that she held in her arms, raised its voice to a pitch on the scale of music somewhere between the scream of a panther and the whistle of a rail-road engine, and forever put that delectable notion out of my brain.

A proposition was made, we are told, to call the counties in their order,, but this was objected to because of the thin attendance, and it was proposed that each man should write his name on a slip of paper, with the county he chose to represent, and hand it in to the Secretary. We did not understand how the question was disposed of, but we are assured that the number of delegates present, exclusive of Franklin county, did not exceed fifty. A small affair truly.— O. S. The President then observed, that he understood this to be a meeting of the citizens Campbell county without distinction of party, convened together according to a public notice previously given in the spirit of conciliation, to take into consideration the present state of the currency; and to adopt such measures in relation to that subject, as according to the opinsome weapon to commence a row with, when by chance I turned my eyes towards the foldwhich made it necessary that such a meeting should be conveined, and that it had been suggested to him, that it was expected that he should state his individual opinions, upon the subject; that he accepted with great sensibility the honor conferred upon him by his fellow citizens, on the present occasion, and returned them his thanks to produce and maintain confidence in the comfor the distinguished part assigned him; that with him no occurrence, could bear with it more solemn and imposing importance, than that of a free people, assembled together, withbright idea struck me. Is this woman though out reference to those party distinctions, by formed of the right materials? But I cant which our country was unfortunately distracted, all willing to lay down these angry feeling engendered by party strife, on meeting each other in a spirit of conciliation, to take into considera tion the important affairs of the country and de-cide upon them with calmness and deliberation. It was on account of this spirit manifested on with as much devotion as when we went to ly fallen upon the country—its circulating medicine altar together. I nope you will forgive. um had been willdrawn from its usual channel. There existed an unusual and alarming scarcity f money—the commerce of the country was abstructed-many of the great manufacturing establishments had stopped their operations.— Great numbers of Laborers Mechanics; and Artizans, were thrown out of employment, and ruin and even want staring thousands in the face-that though the Agricultural part of the community had as yet happily escaped the calamities, which were now pressing so beavily upon the ommercial, manufacturing, and laboring clasnen, that the Farmer must feel the effects of his pressure, before long, in a very serious and ruinous manner, unless some measure could be devised to stop the progress of the evil. There was some difference of opinion as to the cause of this state of thing. It was proposed that this neeting should take the subject into considera tion, and endeavor through Congress to effect a remedy. He hoped that the deliberations of the meeting would be characterized by that spirit of calmness, moderation and conciliation, which tween me and the door, an I when I turned was demanded by the importance of the subject, round she had very unceremoniously vacated and which would be productive of good at home and entitle their proceedings to respect and give them effect abroad—that he could not on any other terms have assented to have assumed the station assigned to him. to the distinguished office he now holds.

'The administration had removed the public deposites from the Bank of the United States; on this subject he differed with the administra tion and to this measure he was sorry to ascribe all the public calamities which were now felt; as it had destroyed confidence, deprived the Bank of the United States the power of giving to the country those facilities required by it—compelled it, to curtail its accommodations and placed the public funds where they could not be used make de Chamber retentic with vociferation of with the same advantage to the country as they Vell, I am blessed, tattletoo! Suppose entin tihnal Bank, was an institution which Congress by the Constitution had a right to establish—was absolutely required for the correct and safe management of the fiscal concerns of the Govern-ment—for the purpose of providing and protecting the circulating medium, and for all the puroses of commerce to the Mercantile, Manufacturing and Agricultural relations of the country He hoped that the gentlemen in their deliberations on the questions before the meeting ould not indulge in expressions of heat and ill will, either toward the government of the coun-ley or the government of the Bank, but discuss the matter with a spirit of conciliation—no man or set of men could always be in the right,—it was the lot of every man not only at sometime but often to be in error—the ability to acknowledge and correct it was an attribute which enobled human nature. We ought to take up the matter before us where we find it—there is no doubt but wrong had peen done on both sides-and that both sides had been accused of doing wrong when they did not deserve reproach. The President had been charged with tyrrany and designed usurpa-tion. He believed that what the President had done, he had done in good faith with the view to the good of the country and from the most honest and patriotic views, and that such was his confidence in the integrity and patriolism of the President that he was satisfied that if the President knew what was the true situation and condition of the country, he would at once with that magnanimity for which he had always been distinguished, apply the correction and administer the necessary relief, and that the only way by which the President could arrive at correct information upon this subject, was through the pri-mary meetings of the people themselves. That on the other hand the Government of were in his opinion justified, by the circumstanes in which they are placed, and necessary forthe safety of the institution, and that so far from curtailing the facilities which the people had a right to expect from them, it seemed to him that they had been more liberal than they could have been expected to be; that by the redrawal of the public deposites, from the 1st of October to the 1st of the present month, was, $7,264,201,96, of private deposites $665,732,66, making together the sum of 7,929,934,82, cents. that the reduction of the accommodations in the same time; was only $3,926,773,07, being the sum of $4,003,561,75 less than the amount of the deposites withdrawn, and indeed that from the 1st of January, to the 1st of this month, the loans of the Bank instead of decreasing-have actually increased $1,256,468.16. But he did not consider it a question important to be decided on the present occasion, as to Resolved, That we repudiate the policy of tax-ing one portion of our citizens for the benefit of Bank was entitled to the most praise, or desering one portion of our citizens for the benefit of another—a Tariff for Protection merely, and not for Revenue—but advocate such a system of right or in the wrong, the country felt deeply and impost duties, to be adopted in that spirit of sensibly the result of the difference and contenequity, caution and compromise, in which the tion between them, and that was the subject on equity, caution and compromise, in which the tion between them, and that was the subject on constitution was formed, as will be sufficient to which it was intended as he understood that this meeting was to express its opinions. There ical administration of the general government, could be no difference of opinion among men at the same time farnishing reasonable, and, as engaged in any kind of business as to the great and sallow complected—evidently the ugliest at the sage time furnishing reasonable, and, as lump of mortality that I ever saw. I felt a terrible nausea at my stomach that threatened all the great important departments of our nature of the people throughout the country: that he believed that the cause of this ting among all classes of the people throughout the office-holders! Can it be that this more country; that he believed that the cause of this anomaly and absurdity will continue?

suffering and distress and the gloomy prospects by which we are surrounded, could be attributed to no other source than the removal of the publicdeposites from the Bank of the United States. and the unfriendly, and indeed hostile relations existing between the government of the Country, and the government of the Bankar Every man must see the distress of the coun ry, and lament the existence of such a state of things; every one should immediately apply bimself to the only remedy, which in his opinion could be of any avail. The direct action of the people and the ascertaining their will on this subject, he had no doubt that our faithful representative in Congress, who had always been found at his post in peace and in war, would obey the wishes of a majority of his district, whatever they might be whenever they were correctly ascertained, that it was the duty of those having influence to act promptly in behalf of their suffering fellow citizens, to arrest the torrent of ruin which was desolating the country, destroy-ing its commerce, stopping its manufacturing, overwhelming the great body of the people in distress, and reducing thousands of mechanics, artizans, laborers, women and children, to want and beggary. The necessity of a National Bank, with proper restrictions, to the existence of sound currency, to the safety of the public funds, munity—to aid and facilitate its commercial and manufacturing operations, which are the medium through which the agriculturalists derive their advantages and profits, and the total inability of the local Banks, to produce these results, seem to be matters upon which there could exist but one opinion among men engaged in business. He did not believe that the liberties of the country, were in any danger from the exis-tence of a National Bank, that he had no fear that our liberties would fall a sacrifice from any internal cause, as long as the people remain uncorrupted—that no country had ever been enslaved, by any internal power until the people had become corrupted and unfit to enjoy liberty, and whenever that was the case all the laws and con- itch for office, and go round with petitions stitutions which could be devised, were but as ropes of sand. That as long as the people of this country remained what they now are, he feared neither tyranny, nor slavery from any nan or corporation.

That he believed that the deposites ought to with proper restrictions and modifications; if is discountenanced and contemned. Can it be that this monstrous and it was feared had done considerable damage

True, there are certain posts connected with Government which require, for the proper discharge of their duties, a harmony of sentiment between the incumbent and the President. The Gabinet Ministers, the Foreign Envoys, the Chief Clerks in the State Department, ought to be of the same party with the President; and so in the State Goywith the President; and so in the State Governments. But does not every upright man feel that it is a flagrant abuse to remove a Postmaster acceptable to three-forths of the of the "Blue, white, and red." persons having any concern in the office, to make room for one unacceptable to them but of like politics with the Postmaster General? Did Mr Madison go too far, when, in the Convention which framed the Federal Constitution, he unhesitatingly declared that such a removal and appointment as this should subject the high functionary directing it to impeachment?

We of the present generation, whose earlier years were not passed amid the corruptions which Burr and coadjutors early implanted in the Politics of this State, before they were transplanted in 1829 to the wider sphere of the Union, have little idea of the parative purity and peace which prevailed under different auspicies. There are whole Counties in which a genuine Office-seekerthat is, a man wanting an office mainly for what he could make out of it,—had not been known for twenty years prior to the election of Jackson. And now where is the town ship, the school-district, which this pestiferous brood has not polluted? Not merely the genteel loafers who are sure to get living somehow from the proceeds of othe men's industry, but once useful though ignorant and incompetent persons, who ought to be serving their country at wood-sawing and earth-shoveling, are smitten by the base which they could not write, soliciting signatures to fortify their claims. Twelve years thereafter, the Whigs came nto power with Gen. Harrison. What did Justice and the Public Good require of them? Would it have been right to continue the monopoly of office by those who were now a minority of the People, and certainly could not claim any preponderance of capacity, integrity or merit? How were we to "proscribe roscription?" By saying to its contrivers and authors, "We concede you a monopoly of the offices forever; you have them now we shall continue 'them in your hands while we have the power, and 'when you triumph again, you will have them of course?" The Celebration in Covington, On the 4th inst., though not gorgeous, and flourish, went off with taste and animation In the morning, the Military made quite a display, which, united with the citizens, formed a procession both interesting and pleasing The procession marched to the M. E. Church where, after an address to the throne of Grace by the Rev. Mr. DEERING, the Declaration o Independence was read by Mr. W. E. ARTHUR. and an oration delivered by J G. Burch, Esq. Mr. Arthur read the never-to-be-forgotten doc a nent of our Fathers, in style a of elegance, animation, and purity, which reflected upon commendation. It was pure in style, patriotic and spirit. We have seldom heard a Fourth-of-July Oration, with which we were more pleased, But by far the most attractive ceremony of the day, if we may so designate it, was the celthe afternoon. The procession of little boys truly beautiful. There is no sight so charming as assemblages of this kind. It causes the heart of stern Manhood to melt with tenderness, and wish it were once more as in the joyous, happy days of Childhood. Much as we may boast of the Experience of age, we must all feel that in the rough race which won it, we have lost a far richer gem--the Purity of our younger days. As we gazed on the laughing throng of boys and misses, sentiments like these rose irresistibly in our mind, and we could not but express the audible wish, that those young, blooming roses might never feel the blighting frosts of Sorrow and Adversity! But vain, we know, is the wish. Thehistory of the world proclaims, in language that cannot be mistaken, that

"Man was made to mourn."

The procession marched to the beautifu grounds, back of Mr. Orr's Female Seminary where appropriate religious ceremonies were per formed, and the Sunday School pupils were addresed by President Pattison. This address we one of the most admirable of the kind we ever listened to. Plain, simple, suited exactly in style and language to the understanding of children, for whom it was intended, yet embodying great and important truths, it enchained the attention of the audience both old and young-Upon the whole, the proceedings of the day were highly interesting, and creditable to our city.

The Meeting On Saturday Night.

Mr. GAINES and Col. TIBBATTS addressed the citizens of Covington in the City Hall on Saturday night last. The audience was large and an peared to be deeply interested with the discussion. Mr. Gaines led off with one of the most admirable speeches we have ever had the pleasure of hearing. It was argumentative, witty, and eloquent. He discussed the Tariff question with a degree of ability which must have carried conviction to the minds of all unprejudiced hearers. And his occasional thrusts at the Col. were, so well timed and so dexterously aimed that they never failed to take effect. We regret that we cannot give a full notice of this speech. Our neighbors of the Intelligencer attempt, in their last issue, to reply to Mr. Gaines' argu ments on the Tariff, which they pronounce, with becoming courtesy, as too "glaring" in absur dity " to merit exposure." Yet they gallantly attempt to make the exposure, which, notwith standing the "glaringness" of the aforesaid " absurdity," they utterly fail to accomplish. Col. Tibbatts followed Mr. Gaines, and in justice to him, we must say, that he made the best of a bad cause, which lay in his power. We de think, however, that he utterly failed to answer successfully a single position advanced by Mr. Graines.

The discussion was conducted, we are glad to state, with courtesy and good taste on both

We shall continue to review his opinions upon the subject of protection and examine some of his other arguments.

And here we will notice a position which the Colonel has assumed and advocated with much warmth and apparent sincerity, which if really believed by him would most seriously affect the public interests and greatly alter the relations which should exist between the people and their

The Col. insists that if Mr. Gaines is right upon the subject of protection, and if duties for protection are a tax on foreigners for the benfit of home industry, that no complaint should be made against Mr. Van Buren for the extravagance of his administration in extending the expenditures of the government from nineteen to thirty-eight millions of dollars per year, and that consequently Swartwout, Price and all the host of leg treasurers by whom he was surrounded, were not guilty of any crime in stealing the will visit, during the present and succeeding consistency (in insisting that these acts are wrong) if they believe in the truth of their own principles. Now does Col. Tibbatts seriously believe that the government of the United States, established by the people for their own enefit, wrested from the hands of Great Britain by the blood, toil and sufferings of our fathers, is to be despoiled of its revenues, and made a source of private emolument, catering to the superior attachment and love to democracy and the dear people, have wormed themselves into their employers, turn round with the greatest coolness and effrontery and insultingly say "It is none of your business; the money which we took was in part levied on foreigners for the benefit of home labor and interests, it has answered that purpose, and we have appropriated it to our own use. You have been benefitted by bim the highest credit. Of the address of Mr. its collection, you can well afford to supply its Burch, all who heard it speak in terms of just place out of the products of your own labor &c."

It matters not for the argument, whether o in sentiment, and was delivered with eloquence in what proportion the money in the United States Treasury is collected from foreign or do mestic taxation. When collected all must admit it belongs to the people, and it is as much stealing, to take without lawful authority, the ebration by the pupils of the Sunday Schools, in fund that is produced by foreign, as that produced by domestic taxation! The people own and and girls, with their badges and banners, was bave use for the whole of it. We are not among those who believe that the interests of the gov ernment and the people should be kept separate! That the government and its officers should take care of themselves, and leave the people to take care of themselves," and that the ad antages of our commercial regulations, and retaliatory protective duties, instituted for the benefit of the whole people, shall be scummed of their cream, to fatten, grease and stick up a rotten, office holding, office seeking crew, and that when the owners of the estate (the people) inquire into the matter that they shall be insulted, driven off and told that some milk and whey is good enough for them. Let us apply the Col.'s reasoning to some o

You are a hypocrite to pre tend that I have injured you! You have no reason to complain of my conduct, or deprive me of my agency. However Col. Tibbatts might relish such reasoning as a politician, we of harmony, which will forever put an end to all are very certain it would not have much weight with lawyer or even farmer Tibbatts. Are not such arguments insulting to the people? Can any man view a community otherwise than with the most ineffable scorn and contempt, when he will endeavor to deceive them with such contemptible trash! Aye, trash that a sensible man would scorn to utter! and an honest man

He cautions and advises them not to speak loud on this subject lest they should establish the truth of their opinions, and other nations should hear and learn, and that we in turn should be taxed on our exports and made to pay the expenses of all the governments of those nations with whom we trade And is Col. Tibbatts so profoundly ignorant of the facts of the case? does he not know that our tariff is merely retaliatory? Does he not know the settled policy of Great Britain whilst we were colonies, was to make us contribute to the maintainance of the British Government,-that to prohibit us from becoming a manufacturing people and secure our dependence on the mother country was the whole of her policy. Why did Lord Chatham declare that America should not be permitted to manufacture so much as a hob nail? fence, adapting their tariff to the special emergencies to which their own peculiar circumstanrelaxation on the part of the United States, is a submission to unlimited taxation of American democrats, for the support of the correct and rotten monarchies and aristocracies of all Europe? Or does the Col. still entertain those fears for the permanency and the perpetuity of our republican institutions, of which it is said that in the presence of John A. Goodson and others, he some years since uttered such notes of despair, and is endeavoring by his cautions to "darken council" and prevent those investigations which would prevent our going in the quickest, easiest way into monarchy? or otherwise with our republican forms and constitutions over, would he make us feel and experience all the tyranny and oppression which the cupidity and legitemacy of the old world may unrestrainedly inflict? Unwilling as we are to come to the conclusion yet we cannot resist the conviction; that whatever may be, or however pure, his motives, the Col. is laboring under a most fatal delusion, and is making the most energetic and untiring exertions, and tasking his otherwise fine powers of mind and body to the prostration of his own country, and the elevation of that power, which is emphatically the antagonist lo all American interests, and that he will, Color, who may please to answer, will be attennot having the advantage of much preliminary luxurious wants and profligate pleasures of a (should be continue our representative in ded to." band of upstart politicians, designing knaves Congress,) whilst he stands forth clothed with

For the Register. The Celebration at Williamstown.

WILLIAMSTOWN, GRANT Co. Ky. DEAR SIR:

The citizens of this place gave a barbecue of the glorious anniversary of the Declaration of deposites from the Bank of the United States; our Independence. The following gentlemen Ky. State Lottery, Class 90 draws on Monday composed the officers of the day: Col. J. F. Gooch, Marshal: Thomas Clark, President: Rev. it had destroyed confidence, deprived the Bank of Wm. Barrett, Chaplain; A. S. Linn, and J. S.

The company proceeded to a grove in the vicinity of the town, which was admirably prepared for the occasion, when the proceedings of the day were opened by singing. An appropriate prayer was then made by the Rev. Mr. Barrett; the Declaration was read by J. S. Boyd, Esq., accompanied by some happy and eloquent remarks. A. S. Linn, Esq., then delivered the oration in a very able and effective mannerturing and Agricultural relations of the country." the various incidents of the Revolution were emphatically depicted, and our duty as citizens and as Americans, impressed with powerful language. After the conclusion of the oration the which were supplied in great profusion. Smiles were beaming on every face; happiness reigned discord ruffled for a moment the harmony of the proceedings. The meeting was honored by a large number of the fair daughters of this county. The meeting was conducted on strict temperance principles, no ardent sprits being of liquor during the day. After all had partaken of refreshments, toast were prepared, and the proceedings closed. The

For the Register. Col. Tibbatts and Mr. Gaines.

The speckled hen of the Intelligencer appears to be quite annoyed at Mr. Gaines' arguments Congress have unanimously consented to the on the Tariff; indeed she appears to feel herself terms of the joint Resolution of the United quite incompetent, even with the aid of the green goslin with whom she is associated, and all the care of the worthy Col. for whom she pecks, clucks and scratches, to spread herself enough bringing Washsington, Texas, dates of June to keep half her eggs warm,-truly they already appear to be as much addled as the brains o the worthy editors themselves.

I am not disposed to find fault with what they are pleased to call the clear, able and convinwhether war will ensue, or not, yet remains in the | cing speech of Col. Tibbatts. The people here have heard, and we hope that through the district they will continue to hear, both these gen tlemen, and having heard I am willing to trust them with the decision of the great and important question, that more than any other concerns themselves. But the Intelligencer has learned that in years past Mr. Gaines was the the highest degree, when compared to that of purchaser and exporter of one of the products of the farmer, Pork; and with more malignity than sense or discretion, (for they certainly ought to know that Mr. Gaines would not have MATRIMONY.—A White Gentleman wishes to Marry a Colored Lady of Education, of Reli- lost eight or ten thousand dollars on the operation, if the seller could fix the price,) have they not, under the pretence of illustrating the falsity of his position, shown a malignant spirit of exultation at the pecuniary loss of an honest man, and endeavored to drag his private affairs into the political canvass? This I consider as an acknowledgment on their part and that of their master that they are beat upon the political question, and that they are anxious to get up some pitiful under-current to help them out of Mr. Gaines has no objection to any full, free and fair inquiry into the history of all his transactions, private and public. What is his character as a gentleman, a man of honor and a neighbor, he is willing that his neighbors both Whigs and Democrats shall decide. They know panion he should be provided with a "coat of him and justly appreciate him. He began the world poor, he has never been rich, and his losses in the pork business have embarrassed him for years past. But he will challenge his opponents one and all to show one single instance in which he has endeavored to evade any responsibility. or been guilty of an act unworthy an upright and honorable man. On the contrary when times have been most dark and gloomy, he has the more intensely applied his shoulder to the wheel, he has more assiduously followed his plough, he has swung his sythe, his axe, his mall, and hoe with a stronger arm, a leader to his sons in the field, he has never shrunk from the payment of an honest debt.

I seek not to screen Mr. Gaines from any just responsibility, nor do I seek to attack the private character of any man; but what is fair ing the undersigned at Frankfor for the goose is fair for the gander! If you wish to dodge the political questions before us; and are desirous of going into personal matters, we must even follow. We don't like dog fights, but if nothing else will suit you, why here's at you! Do you wish to bring us up to that scratch? We pause for a reply! ENQUIRER.

PROSPECTUS

SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE The publishers of The Tribune have been fre quently solicited to issue a semi-Weekly edi ion of their paper for the benefit of those who revuire the news of the day oftener than once a week, and yet are without Daily Mails, or do not choose to incur the expense and heavy pos-tage of a Daily. Circumstances have hitherto rendered such publication impossible, without trenching upon the due issue of Daily and Weekly editions. We are preparing to obviate this difficulty in the new building now being erected for us on the site of our burnt estal lishment, where we hope to be again located by, or soon after the 1st of May.

The New-York Semi-weekly, will therefore before the 16th of May, and will be published thenceforward on Wednesday and Saturday of each week. It will be printed on good paper of the size of the Daily Tribune, and will contain nearly or quite all the matter of the Daily, including Money Market, daily report of Commer-cial Transactions, Sales of Stocks, City Intel-ligence, &c. An Assistant Editor devotes his ligence, &c. An Assistant Editor devotes his whole time to the collection of this kind of Intelligence, reporting it twice a day for the Morning and Evening editions of our Daily.—
Two reporters are constantly watching the proceedings of the various Courts of our City and noting every thing deemed interesting to our featers. We hope to make the Semi-Weekly Tribune a most assessible marketing to the control of the control o Tribune a most acceptable paper for Business men out of this City, and for all who wish a more prompt and detailed map of busy life than a Weekly paper can possibly be made.

Correspondents at Washington during the Session and at every point of general or transi-tory interest will at all times be employed; the liberal patronage bestowed on the Tribune de-manding and justifying a corresponding liberality outlay on our part. In the department of General Literature and Criticism, we have se-cured assitance of the highest order, while we cope soon to announce a department of Agriultural and General Science, under the immediate conduct of one of the most experienced and popular writers on Agriculture in the Country. In fine, we shall spare no expense or effort to make the Tribine, whether in its Daily, Semi-Weekly or Weekly edition, eminently worthy the patronage of the Business and Read-irg Public, but especially of Wnics.

The Simi-Weekly Tribune will be issued every Wednesday and Saturday on a sheet of good paper the size of the Daily TEIM: Three Dollars a year; Five Dollars for I wo C pies; payable always in andvance. Orders, enclosing cash are respectfully solicited by

The many persons having this Stove in use bear testimony to its superiority over any other Cooking Stoves ever offered to the public. In addition to its unsurpassed fa cilities for boiling, roasting, broiling, washing &c., it presents an oven nearly twice as large as any other Stove in use, which is heated with th most perfect uniformity, and in its operations is in every respect equal to a brick oven.

For economy in fuel, convenience and des patch in all the departments of cooking, this Stove is unsurpassed by any other ever invented. For the operation of the Stove we respectfully refer to the following persons who have it in use.

NEW ESTABLISHMENT! Tailoring and Repairing.

HO would not economise when a small VV fortune can be saved by having his old clothes done over. The subscribers flatter themselves that they can clean old clothes and repair them in a manner superior to any person in this city, and at one third less than the usual price. They will take Tar, Paint, Grease Pitch Varnish or any other dirt, out of Gloth, Silk, Satin or any kind of Woolen goods, and leave no stains.

All Faded Colors Restored! Gentlemen hesitate to have their clothing coured on account of the many impostors who ruin the cloth by scouring with soap. Carrige Cushions, Hangings, Pulpit Covers, Sofas, Chair Covers, Window Hangings, Carpets and Hearth Rugs, cleaned, dressed and made to appear as new. Ladies and Gentlemen give them a call, and be convinced that some things can be done as well as others.

They have also a DYEING ESTABLISH-MENT, connected with the renovating shop. The materials made use of in their process o renovating and cleaning, effectually prevents moths from destroying any kind of Woolen goods Persons having Woolen clothing which they in-tend to lay aside during the summer would do well to have them first cleaned by this process.

STANDARD SCHOOL BOOKS

To those engaged in the important, but arduous task of instructing youth, McGuster's

ECLECTIC READERS, Nos. ONE, TWO, THREE

AND Four, are now presented, thoroughly revised, and greatly enlarged, with many important improvements. They are now in a permanent stereotype form, NO FURTHER ALTERA-TIONS being intended. Prof. McGuffey's enthusiastic devotion to the cause of Education, his fine taste and discriminating mind, and his practical experience as an instructor, render him peculiarly fitted for the department of authorship, to which he has given his attention. The suggestions of intelligent teachers who had used the former editions of the series, and the valuable aid afforded him in the revision by an experienced educator, have also furnished him with unusual facilities for advantageously revising and enlarging these works. In this series, comprising as it does, a careful selection of instructive, entertaining and mercimatter, progressively arranged, and graduated with reference to the capacity of the pupil, Prof. McGuffey has afforded to parents and teachers, a most thorough, complete, and efficient auxiliary. in the education of youth. Its extensive use has been sufficient for the development and just appreciation of its many excellencies. The result is, that intelligent teachers pronounce it the most complete series now before the public. The intrinsic merit of Prof. McGuffey's Eclectic Readers, having gained for them an un paralleled and rapidly increasing circulation, the publisher is enabled, notwithstanding the heavy expenditure in their revision and enlargement, to manufacture them in the neatest and most durable manner, while they are now furnished at such low prices, that they are the CHEAPEST, as well as the best school reading books extant.

JUST PUBLISHED, McGupper's Rhetorical Guide; or Fifth Reader, of the Eclectic Series —480 pages, 12mo.; containing copious and minute rules, examples and exercises in rticulation, inflection, emphasis, accent, quantity, rhetorical pause, modulation, expression, reading of poetry, rhetorical dialogue, gesture, and their collateral subjects, to which are added a great variety of elegant reading lessons, (about one half prose and half poetry,) selected from the most classic writers; furnishing entertaining and instructive specimens of various styles of composition. This work has been prepared with very great care, and with reference to making it a useful, practical, and standard book; and the publisher confidently hopes, that the Rhetorical Guide of Mr. McGuffey is well adapted to supply the wants of classes in rhetorical reading in our Academies, High Schools and Colleges,

THE SICK-HEADACHE.

EITHER NERVOUS OR BILIOUS. an attentive perusal of the following will, it is believed, fully repay all classes of readers: HEADACHE.-The disease is one from which arises more misery to the human family than is generally supposed; not being directly fatal, it is often neglected, or persons resort so much to the use of purgatives and other medicines, as to impair their general health, and often induce fa-tal diseases. The article, DR. SPOHN'S HEADACHE REMEDY, from Comstrocks & Co., now offered seems to have overcome these difficulties. While its effects are most powerful and immediate in curing an attack or keeping it off, it is so perfectly mild and innocent as to be used for infants with the greatest effect and safety. This has now been tested by so many of the highest members of this community, as to

CONSUMPTION,

Colds, Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breath-ing, Asthma, Pain in the Side, Breast and Chest, Whooping Cough, Croup, and all Dis-eases of the Liver and Lungs.

Consumption and Death ILL most assuredly be the early fate of those who neglect themselves when afflic ted with the promonitory symptoms of consumption, such as a Cold, Cough, Bronchitis, or Soveness of the Throat, Hoarseness, Difficult Expectoration, Asthma, Spitting of Blood, &c.—Dr. DUNCAN'S EXPECTORANT REMEDY is expressly prepared for the removal and cure of those dangerous and troublesome diseases. Therefore, you who are laboring under the influence of these complaints, procure immediate y this medicine before it be too late. ONE BOTTLE may be the means of prolonging your life. Always ask for Dr. DUNCAN'S EXPECTORANT REMEDY, and see that you get it, and not be persuaded by some who sell different medicines to take some of their medicine in preference. These persons obtain some cheap thing, and palm it on the public at full price. It is therefore important for purchasers to be on their guard.

CARPA'S ACOUSTIC OIL, for the cure of Deafness, pains, and the discharge of matter from the ears; also, all those disagreeable noises, like the buzzing of insects, falling of waters, whizzing steam, &c., which are symptoms of approaching deafness and also generated by the sanguine hope of final success, by the loms of approaching deafness and also generated by the sanguine hope of final success, by the dilligent use of your tonic which (amid all the "hair humburgs" which have been advertised in any have had doubts they may now dismiss them, and the most credulous may consider deafness as curable. Numerous cases of cures, and many of them very remarkable, by the use of "Scarpa's Oil" have been published -- but this caps the climax. Young or old, you may yet recover your hearing.

A lady in Smithfield Pa., now about 80 years of age, had been gradually getting deaf for more than 40 years, so that it was next to impossible to make her hear conversation in the loudest tone of voice. Last winter she was indiced to try "Scarpa's Oil for deafness." It is only necessary to add, that she has used two bottles, and that her hearing is perfectly restored: she is cured. This valuable oil is prepared by Dr. B. Bell, and is sold on agency by Dr. D. Jayne, 305 Broadway. Price $2 per bottle.

OFFICE AETNA INSURANCE CO. Front st. near Sycamore, Cincinnati. CAPITAL $200 000.

Agent of the Etna Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn. offers to insure houses, stores, mills, factories, barns, and the contents of each, to-gether with every other species of property, against loss or damage by fire.

The rates of premium offered by this Company are as low as those of any other similar institution, and every man has now an opportunity, for a small sum, to protect himself against the losses to which his property is daily exposed. Under the liberal and enlightened policy which the Company have pursued for a quarter of a century past, in settling losses, they have gained a reputation unsurpassed by any other institution.
The citizens of Covington and vicinity are invited to call on the undersigned, who is authorised to issue policies to applicants, without delay.

GREAT WESTERN LAND AGENCY.

No. 30 Frond Spreet. CINCINNATI, QHIO. The undersigned having been heretofure ex-tensively engaged in the sching of REAL ES-TATE in the castern cities, was induced by his numerous friends and acquaintances, to resume that branch of business in the west. He accordingly opened, temporarily, an Office, at his Lecture room, North East Corner of Main and Fifth Streets, Cincinnati, where he has been patronized for the last year, lieyond his most sanguine expectations. He has now removed to Front Street, in full view of all the Steam boat arrivals and departures, where he is ready to receive propositions for the purchase and sale of

Real Estate, of every variety, in Chies, Towns, or Country.

His extensive and intimate acquaintance in all the Eastern States, and in most of the large cities of the Union for the last twenty-five years. will give him very decided advantages in procuring purchasers from a distance. His Steriographic profession has given unrivalled facilities for correspondence with hundreds of editors and publishers in different parts of the United States; by which means he can more readily make known the relative merits and advantages of property brought within his agency. (As a proof of his facilities, he would remark, that on a former occasion, he sold in a single year, within a single county of Pennsylvania, farms and town lots to the amount of $600,000 thus bringing into the pockets of his immediate neighbors, from the large cities and remote parts of the Union, cash in hand payments, to the amount of $150,3 000 within the year.)

As soon as patronage will warrant, he will, in addition to the ordinary duties of a local agent, resume his former practice of visiting the large Eastern Cities, as often as once in six months—to spread his propositions before capitalists, to exhibit and explain maps, charts and descriptions; to organize Manufacturing companies, Land Companies, Joint Stock Societies, Social Communities, etc., etc.-to receive orders, and perform such other functions, as pertain to a general land agency, between the east and the west, the north and the south, or with various countries of Europe.

In the mean time, persons wishing to sell farms, town lots, or other real estate, are respectfully invited to call at the office as above described, where the most satisfactory references will be given, and abundant evidence shown of the numerous facilities which this establishment will possess, over every and all others, in the cast of
