COVINGTON.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1846.

Y. B. PALMER is our agent for obtaining subscribers and advertisements in the following places, viz: N. W. corner of third and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia. Tribune Buildings, (opposite City Hall), New York. S. E. corner of Baltimore and Calvert streets, Baltimore. No. 13, State Street, Boston. He is fully authorized to receive the money and receipt for it, for all new subscribers and advertisements he may obtain.

AN APPRENTICE WANTED.

Wanted, immediately, at this office, a boy 14 or 15 years of age, to learn the printing business. None but a boy of good character need apply.

Kentucky Legislature.

We refer to our Frankfort correspondence for partial accounts of the proceedings of the Legislature.

A Resolution has been passed by the House of Representatives welcoming Texas &c. A bill has passed the House which is intended to equalize the territories of the judicial districts. Its plan divides and distributes this district, by adding Kenton and Boone to the 4th District, Harrison to the 10th, Campbell and Pendleton to the 1st and throws the 2d (now our district) away down in the Green River country. Union, Hopkins, Crittenden and Caldwell.

Our Frankfort correspondent seems disposed to compliment Col. Key, the Mason Statesman. When he speaks of the Senator's "pouncing like an eagle on his prey," we wonder if the figure is a good one? Did the Senator really look like an eagle? The facts might subject our correspondent's style to the criticism of being florid.

Improvement.

Our neighbors of the Intelligence have improved the size and appearance of their paper. If our neighbors would come out and advocate correct principles, the matter would be in keeping with the appearance of the Intelligence.

Foreign Affairs.

It seems that Senator Cass believes that not a bit of the movements preparatory for war should be suspended, on account of any late news from England. He thinks, the two countries are as much at issue on the Oregon question as ever, and although there may exist at present, greater reason for the desire of peace on the part of England, than lately, she has not, nevertheless, signified that any concession to Oregon will be made. Mr. Calhoun thinks that England is for negotiation, and seems to have but little apprehension of war. Meanwhile Mr. Webster, who cannot be presumed to know as well what information the President has at hand as the other gentlemen, is solicitous to know if there be any information which has not been published. We are inclined to the opinion, that a state of preparation for war in the present attitude of affairs, would not be unwise policy at all events. Some danger of war might grow out of an unprepared state.

In Mexico, Gen. Paredes has had himself elected President, and from the accounts, is very busy in reforming the abuses in the Government just overthrown. He will probably be so much occupied in that way for a while, that he will defer making war with us to a more convenient season. It will be a great pity, should he not abandon the idea altogether.

Florida Contested Election.

The House has decided the Florida contest, in favor of Breckenridge, the contestant, and Mr. Cabell must leave. It was urged by Mr. Cabell that testimony could be adduced, of the failure to return counties and precincts, besides those proven by the contestant. It is fair to presume that the majority decided the matter right, according to the lights before them; but Mr. B. is a democrat and has a large majority in Congress on his side. He ought to go back to Florida, for fear his party friends in Congress may have done Mr. Cabell injustice. We will see how the democracy act in such cases.

Licking River.

In the Senate of Kentucky, a Bill has been reported to complete lock and dam on Licking River, which was made the special order for a future day. This, in connection with the proposition now before the House to incorporate the "Licking River Navigation Company," shows that we have some untiring friends in the Legislature, who are determined to urge what is justly due to the people of the Licking country, no matter how decidedly a majority of the Legislature may turn the cold shoulder to our interests. We may be postponed, as we have already been shamefully neglected, but let us be of good cheer and battle on for our rights and our interests, with the determination never to falter until justice shall have been done us. We have contributed our share to all the improvements of other Rivers in the State; we cannot believe that the Commonwealth will always withhold from us the same encouragement which we have always cheerfully contributed to give other sections.

Mr. Buchanan.—We learn, says the Philadelphia Sentinel, from Washington, from good authority, that President Polk says that he knows of no man so well qualified to be Secretary of State, as Mr. Buchanan, and that the country must have his services, at the head of the State Department. Mr. Buchanan will therefore remain in the Cabinet.

CONGRESS.

The proceedings of Congress up to the 29th ult. are chiefly on the subject of Oregon and National Defense. Messrs. Crittenden and Mangum's proposition, authorizing the President to give the 12 months notice after the expiration of the present Session of Congress, accompanied by an offer to negotiate, is under consideration. An ultimate amicable adjustment of our difficulties with England seems to be the better opinion now, although there are some who cannot see the prospect. It is said that President Polk is complimented in England for his statesmanship, which is likely to accommodate our difficulties. This is understood to mean, that our tariff policy is probably to be sacrificed to the settlement of the Oregon question.

Covington Library Association.

A Library Association was formed in this city a few evenings since, by a meeting of the citizens, assembled for that purpose. A constitution was adopted, one section of which, provides, that membership may be obtained by signing the constitution and paying an initiation fee of $2. annual tax of $2, payable in advance, is required by the constitution, and life membership may be acquired by the payment of $30 at one time, or at any time when $30 shall have been paid by a member. We hope our citizens will give this enterprise an examination and support worthy of its objects. The Association, if supported in the right way, will prove an important auxiliary to the literary advancement and social improvement of our city. In our onward march to importance in other respects, we should not neglect the objects of the "Library Association."

Covington and Cincinnati Bridge Company.

From all accounts, the fate of the Bill to incorporate a Bridge Company under the above title, is very uncertain. It is now before the Senate of Kentucky, having passed the lower House, some time ago. It was made the special order for the 3d inst., but according to the papers, nothing was done on that day or since—Our friends some of them, seem sanguine of its success, whilst others, think that it will, if it passes at all, pass with such amendments as will be equivalent to a defeat. Our correspondent and other sources of information concur in attributing the opposition to contractedness and sectional views. We cannot believe, that such motives can carry a majority of the Kentucky Senate against any measure.

In one of the letters from our correspondent, there is severity against the Mason Senator, to which we object. A weak man occupying the position of that Senator, and under the circumstances with which he is surrounded, would very naturally take the course and employ the arguments ascribed to the Senator on the subject of a Bridge from Covington to Cincinnati, without being properly subject to the severity of our correspondent.

OHIO WHIG STATE CONVENTION.—William Bebb of Butler county has been nominated by the Whigs for Governor of Ohio. We know Mr. Bebb; he will prove a gallant standard-bearer for the Whigs of Ohio, who deserve such a leader.

Boone Special Election.

The election held in Boone on the 26th 27th and 28th ult. which we neglected to notice last week, resulted in the re-election of James N. Stephens resigned, as follows:

	Jas. N. Stephens.	G. W. Brasher
Burlington	278	121
Petersburg	143	114
Florence	144	173
Union	57	85
Verona	156	126
Landing	91	244
	<hr/> 872	<hr/> 863

Majority for Stephens 9. Stephens had resigned his seat, and was seeking an election which would be satisfactory to all. It was said that he went home from Frankfort with a "lone hand," but he came near being eulogized. Brasher plays his cards well, and we see by the Warsaw Herald and Ky. Intelligence, that a seat in the Senate is to be the recompense for his perplexities.

CAUTION TO STEAMBOAT CAPTAINS.—The N. O. Picayune of the 25th ult. says: "By a judgment rendered in the U. S. District Court yesterday, a steamboat captain was fined $50 for a violation of the Post-Office law, having bro't a letter to this city, contrary to the late provisions passed by Congress on this subject."

LOWELL GIRLS.—Where there is so much worth, intelligence, and beauty, as is found in Lowell, there can be no want of adventures. A spruce young fellow, in gallant one of the operatives, and commenting on a late turnout, remarked that he wished he could maintain all the factory girls for six months. His fair friend quietly replied, "I wish you were able to maintain one of them."

STEAM BALLOON.—Horrible Machine!—The correspondent of the New York Mirror says: "A Mr. PATTON, of Virginia, is making a great stir relative to a Steam Balloon he has invented, and by which he proposes to carry dispatches to Oregon in a few hours. In addition to this, he says he can connect with the balloon a battery of such tremendous power, that it would shower down balls in such numbers that no army could withstand them. He hopes that a Select Committee will be appointed to test the invention by a short experimental voyage to Texas and back again. He would prefer that Dixon H. Lewis should be Chairman, as his bulk would tend to keep the 'balance of power' in the car of the balloon."

Plaquemines, in 1844, polled one thousand and forty-seven votes; of these, only thirty-seven were given for Clay, and one thousand and seven for Polk! Now, she polls only five hundred and thirty-eight votes; one hundred and fifty of which are for Debuys, and three hundred and eighty-eight for Johnson! Her returned majority for Polk was nine hundred and seventy, and for Johnson only two hundred and thirty-eight!

THE NAVAL SCHOOL AT ANNAPOLIS.—This school has been for some time in successful operation, and bids fair to render very useful service to the Navy. It is contemplated, says the Alexandria Gazette, to attach a ship of war to the Naval School to run on short cruises of one, two or three months. She will be manned by midshipmen, who will thus have opportunities to learn the duties of sailors in all their details, and to become familiar with everything pertaining to all sorts of service on ship board. We cannot but regard the establishment of this institution as an important feature in the progress of the Navy.

DESIRE FOR PEACE.—We have a letter before us, says the New York Commercial from a friend residing in Canada, who is an officer under the Government. In speaking of the state of political affairs he says: "I am much pleased that you deprecate the war spirit lately evinced in your country. Every one with whom I have conversed on the subject is averse to a war between Great Britain and the United States. We think peace can be maintained without tarnishing the honor of either Government."

WAR WITH MEXICO.—The New York Express states that a private letter from Washington mentions a report that Mr. Polk will soon recommend a war with Mexico.

Correspondence of the Register.

FRANKFORT, Jan. 31, 1846.

DEAR SIR:—Frankfort is becoming rather dull. The gay season has passed away, and with it the "non-resident" fair, whose smiles have lighted up this city, for several weeks, and whose voices have made every parlor vocal with music, have vanished like the "baseless fabric of a vision." Still, in my perambulations, I occasionally meet bright faces and sylph-like forms, which I would fain meet again. But hush! I am a married man and must not talk thus!

The Mason County question, after a long struggle and bitter war, has been decided—Maysville was whipped and badly too. The whole matter was, yesterday, referred back to the people to be again decided by them. I say to be again decided, because, I think, that if a question was ever clearly settled by the popular voice, it was this. A fine fight will come off in Mason next summer. The friends of Maysville and Washington are both sanguine of success.

Today our Bridge Bill was reported to the Senate by Mr. Dyer, a warm friend of the measure. Contrary to expectation, it met with furious opposition. Col. Key, of Mason, pounced upon it like an eagle on its prey. He moved its recommitment, not to the committee on Internal Improvements, who have had it before them, but to the Judiciary committee, in whose hands it was intended the bill should sleep during the session. Col. K. declared that he wanted time to examine the bill, notwithstanding, I am informed, he has had it in his possession several days! He also denounced the Bridge as a public highway for runaway slaves, and expresses his fears that his negroes would run all the way from Mason to cross into Ohio over the bridge! Now this is all gammon. Col. Key knows very well that no slave ever ran from Mason to Covington with the view of escaping into Ohio. He knows that they can escape nearer home. The bridge would indeed increase the security against the escape of slaves. They could not cross the bridge without the knowledge of the keeper, and the company would most assuredly place none but a man of character, integrity and responsibility in that station. No, this is not the fear of the Senator from Mason. He is actuated by different motives altogether. But why waste ink and paper in noticing him? He is fully appreciated here, and his opposition will do us good. He has been completely unmasked during the pending of the Court-house controversy by his own country. His double-dealing, his secret attempts to blight the reputation of Mr. Waller, a young man of talents, worth and integrity—have been properly marked. Pierce Butler, of Louisville, however is a more dangerous opponent. He professes to oppose the measure on national grounds. He alleged in his speech that the fear of obstructing navigation was the main ground upon which he based his opposition. But is this so? I will not impugn his motives. He is a man of talents and deserving high standing. Yet this is a copy of a charter passed for the benefit of Louisville some years since, and the same reasons could have been urged against that bridge bill. The Representatives from Louisville voted for our bill and are warmly enlisted in its behalf. They differ with their Senator to celo, and I cannot but honor their magnanimity and public spirit. Most of the Senators, however, in the Louisville interest are bent against us. Now, have not things come to a pretty pass, when such local jealousy, and sectional feelings are thus brought to bear against our section of the State! But never mind, if they do not withdraw their opposition, we will make them feel the consequences hereafter. Senators Dyer, Helm, Harris and Evans, to whom all praise is due, resisted the proposition to recommit, and moved to make the bill the special order of the day for Tuesday. Our opponents resisted this, but it was carried, 21 to 8. This I think looks well. I have seen many Senators since, and our friends are active. I think we will triumph.

Having occupied so much space on this, to us most important subject, I am compelled to postpone other matters to a future epistle. I must tell you, however, of Col. Combs' Texas speech, delivered in the House to-day. He reported resolutions welcoming Texas into the Union, and gave us a long speech in their favor. I can only allude to it now. It was a rare, but mostly a pleasing, and feeling speech. He goes the whole hog for Texas. The resolutions passed, almost unanimously.

Yours &c.

A LOOKER ON.

FRANKFORT, Feb. 2, 1846.

DEAR SIR:—I wrote you, on Saturday evening last, an account of the proceedings of the Legislature up to that period. Since that time I have been engaged almost exclusively in combating the efforts now on foot to defeat the bridge bill. My efforts are greatly aided by a number of gentlemen of the House of Representatives, among whom are Mr. Root, of Campbell, Mr. Mason, of Garrard, Mr. Stevenson, of Kenton, and Mr. Cox, of Fleming. To-morrow the battle will be fought, and although strong efforts will be made against us, I feel confident of the passage of the measure. I shall, however, convey you the earliest information in regard to its fate.

An interesting case is now pending before a committee of the House, from Carter county, in allude to the impeachment of Geo. W. Coons, a Justice of the Peace of that county, for divers misdemeanors. "Too foul to be mentioned to ears polite." I have listened to a great portion of the testimony, and I assure you it is rich. Now, while I write, Judge Hewitt is addressing the committee on the part of the defence, much to the amusement of the "gaping crowd." It is believed the impeachment will be sustained.

Nothing of interest was done in the Senate to-day. The House was engaged in discussing the bill to equalize the Judicial Districts, which was finally passed, by a vote of 58 to 23. The bill adds Kenton county to Prior's District, and sends Judge Brown to the Green River.

Mr. Stevens was welcomed back to his seat on Saturday with open arms. He is a very respectable member, and is highly esteemed by the members. By the by, I heard a good story, the other day, in regard to the Boone election. When the steamer Shelby stopped at Landing in Boone county, last Monday, one of the unfortunates "democracy" called loudly for the "Capt. ting." The captain appeared in answer to the call, when the man addressed him from the bank, somewhat in this manner. "Capt. I have the pleasure to inform you, that, on Friday evening last, you will have the honor of conveying to Frankfort, the Honorable George W. Brasher and family, members elect from the county of Boone." Accordingly, on Friday, the captain called for Mr. Brasher, when lo! and behold! he could not be found, but in his stead Mr. Stevens stopped on board. So the captain had not anticipated honor.

I have not time to write more. I feel too much anxiety in regard to the Bridge to think of anything else.

Yours &c.

A LOOKER ON.

Job at Peru, Ia.

We understand that great excitement prevailed a few days since at Peru; that the people in large numbers had assembled, compelled the keeper of the canal land office to resign, took possession of the books of the office, and thus put an end to the entry of lands for the present.

This high handed measure we learn, is in consequence of the passage of a law on the last day of the late session, declaring lands, upon which the interest had not been paid, forfeited to the State, and subject to immediate entry. This law was got up for the benefit of speculators in canal scrip, and carried through the Legislature, as before remarked, at the very height of the session; and before the news reached the settlers on the lands, those speculators who were at the "eat of Government" at the moment, had posted off to Peru and commenced entering their farms and choice lands.

As much as we deprecate everything like mob violence, (and we are of those who think that the laws should be sustained at all hazards,) still, this sudden outburst of the settlers, under the peculiarly oppressive and irritating circumstances of the case, ought to be looked upon, we think, with some degree of charity.

James Hamilton, who murdered John Holton, a constable of Brookville, had his trial at a called term of the Broken circuit court last week. He was sentenced to four years imprisonment in the penitentiary.—Maysville Eagle.

LOUISIANA ELECTION.—From the New Orleans Tropic, of the 21th, we learn that, as far as returns have been received, the Majority for Johnson and Landry, the Locofoco candidates for office of Governor and Lieut. Governor, was 935, and the Locofoco had elected a majority of eleven to the House of Representatives. About sixteen parishes had been heard from—about twenty-seven remain to be heard from.

Alex. Bullitt was elected to the Legislature in New Orleans.

The Nashville Republican nominates and supports the Hon. John J. Crittenden, Senator from Kentucky, as a candidate for the Presidency in 1848.

WASHINGTON IRVING.—We learn from a private letter received by the Albion, that this gentleman is in London, where he went with the hope of being useful in the present state of our negotiations with England.

ARRIVAL AND ARREST.—The N. O. Picayune of the 25th ult. says: "By the ship Francisco arrived yesterday, Mr. Hernandez, late a resident of New York, together with a lady, a Catholic clergyman and three children, came passengers on their route to Cuba. Immediately after their landing, Hernandez and the clergyman were arrested by Capt. Youness, and lodged in the parish jail in default of bail to the amount of $100,000 for their appearance to answer a series of charges to be brought against them."

Mr. Toombs, of Georgia, in the course of his speech in the House of Representatives on the Oregon question made, incidentally, some startling allusions to the consequences of a war. A peace member rose at the moment and very audibly exclaimed, in a very sonorous voice—

"Hark! from the Thunder of the sound; Mine ears attend the cry: Ye living men, convulse the ground: Where you may shortly lie!"

After the delivery of this stanza the Speaker found it difficult for some time to preserve order.

A bill is about to be introduced into the N. Y. Legislature, providing that no action shall be maintained upon any promise to marry, unless the same be in writing. We think this saving clause highly necessary.

Elizabeth Van Valkenburgh, convicted at the last session of the Fulton County (N. Y.) Circuit, of the murder of her husband, by administering poison to him, is to suffer the extreme penalty of the law; the efforts made to effect a commutation or change of punishment in her case have entirely failed, and hence this unfortunate and wretched being is to be executed on Saturday the 24th inst.

PIG MARKING.—A pig manufactory has been started at Cabotville, Mass. Benedict & Ball have in successful operation three machines of their own invention for marking the solid head pin, and one machine for striking them on paper. They now make 240 pins a minute, in perfect shape, and calculate when they have perfected some parts of their machine to make 300 pins a minute, or with the three machines 54,000 pins a minute. Their striking machine has caused them some considerable labor to perfect. They now stick 1200 pins per minute, the roll of paper rolling out to any length that may be desired, with a wider margin every ten rows where it should be divided into the common paper.

A DOG SCHOOL.—The following singular advertisement appears in the Utica (New York) Gazette, of Thursday last:

Henry Winfield wishes to inform the citizens of Utica, that he has opened at No. 22, Post street, a Dog School, where he will teach dogs to go on errands as correctly as any boy ten years old; to dance as well as the most accomplished dancer; waltz, cut the pigeon wing, to count the number of persons in the room; also to distinguish the number and color of persons present. Persons wishing to have dogs of persons present, will please apply immediately, as it is the intention of Mr. Winfield at the end of the month after the dogs have entered, to give an exhibition. Spectators can be seen at Mr. Winfield's residence.

AN IMPORTANT INVENTION.—A Mr. Phillips, of London, has lately invented a "Fire anti-hilator for instantaneously extinguishing fire by means of vapour."

The principles, says a foreign Journal, are chemical, and they proceed on facts deduced from considerations of the source of all power—chemical action. Fire, the ordinary acceptation of the term, is a phenomenon which results from the union of oxygen, the supporter of combustion, hydrogen, the element of flame, and carbon, the element of light. If the oxygen, being in excess, be allowed to enter the fire, the fire annihilates itself. The fire anti-hilator, which possesses a greater affinity for the oxygen of the air than the oxygen has for the hydrogen and the carbon with which it is combined, is instantaneously generated by the machine, and thrown with extraordinary rapidity on the fire, which, being instantaneously deprived of the "supporter of combustion," at once ceases. The extinction is so sudden, that in the case of a strong fire, which Mr. Phillips "put out" on board a vessel in the Thames, the operation did not occupy "one second;" and it was compared by the spectators to a "flash of lightning."

GOOD NEWS.

THE FRAUDULENT SCHUYLKILL BANK SWAMPED.—The Bank of Kentucky Triumphant.—We received no Eastern mail yesterday, but by the politeness of Col. Ed. H. Taylor, Cashier of the Frankfort Branch Bank, have been furnished with the New York Herald of the 23th ult., containing the subjoined synopsis of the decision of the Pennsylvania Court of Common Pleas in the case of the Bank of Kentucky vs. The Schuykill Bank, which it will be seen, is in favor of the Bank of Kentucky throughout.

The claim of the Bank of Kentucky was over a million of dollars, of which about half a million can be made out of the assets of the Schuykill Bank.

We think it is an error, as stated below, that no appeal can be taken to any higher court of Pennsylvania; but the case, we imagine, can be carried up to the Supreme Court of the United States. The Schuykill Bank, however, will hardly be able to find adequate security to enable it to avail of such right; and if it could, we feel confident the Supreme Court would affirm the decision of the Pennsylvania court.—Commonwealth.

From the New York Herald, January 29.

PHILADELPHIA, JAN. 28, 1846.

The Schuykill and Kentucky Bank Case Decided.

This morning Judge King delivered the opinion of the Court of Common Pleas on the long pending case of the Bank of Kentucky against the Schuykill Bank of this city. It was an able and comprehensive opinion, and the President Judge was two hours and a half in reading it. The decree was in favor of the Kentucky institution, and an order was made, referring to a master the computation of the over-issue of spurious stock, and the amount of indemnity which the Schuykill Bank is bound to pay.—This decree and order is final, no appeal being allowed by the laws of this State. As this is a highly important case, affecting very interested all over the Union, and as the principles decided are of the highest moment to every corporation (particularly of a banking character) in this State, I send you the substance of the points decided, the opinion being entirely too voluminous (nearly three pages) for newspaper publication.

1st. The Kentucky Bank, though a foreign corporation, was competent to contract in Pennsylvania, and to establish an agency for the transfer of its stock.

2d. That such a contract was neither in opposition to the positive law, nor the general policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

3d. That the Schuykill Bank, as a banking corporation, was legally competent to enter into such a contract.

4th. That the Kentucky Bank, in the creation of this agency, acted in conformity with its powers, and in the mode prescribed by its charter.

5th. That the Kentucky Bank was responsible to the holders of spurious stock issued by the Philadelphia agency, certainly so far as to be bound to make compensation to such holders.

6th. That the Bank of Kentucky having accepted the stock of the Schuykill Bank, and its money in equity, against the Schuykill Bank, for indemnity as a defaulting agent—and that under the act of 1842, passed by the legislature of Pennsylvania, for the relief of the Bank of Kentucky, the Bank properly represented the holders of spurious stock to whom it had not made compensation.

7th. That the liability of the Schuykill Bank for the acts of its cashier in issuing the spurious stock, was an extensive with the entire indemnity of the bona fide purchasers of said stock.

8th. That in point of law, as well as in fact, the Schuykill Bank, in its corporate capacity, was from the 18th of March, 1835, to the 16th of December, 1839, the transfer agent of the Bank of Kentucky, and responsible for the defaults of its own organic functions, in the execution of the duties of such agency.

9th. That the formal proceedings in this case were perfectly regular, whether regarded with reference to the general principles of equity to practice, or the special jurisdiction given to this court by the act of 1842, before the transfer.

The opinion is an able one, and evinces an amount of legal ability, and an industry rarely found, and for which Judge King is so remarkable.

The amount which the Kentucky Bank is held to pay, under the decree in its favor, about a million of dollars, will swamp the remaining capital of the Schuykill Bank, and those who have recently been speculating in its stock, will be severely bitten. Its chartered privileges, however, remain entire, and they have been valued at five dollars per share. Since the decision of the court has been announced, the stock of the Kentucky Bank has gone up to 33.

Annexation to Canada.

The Canadians are taking the initiative, according to our most approved example, to annex the Northern States to Canada! In this progressive age our Yankee brethren may wake up some morning not remote, and find themselves Canadian subjects! A large meeting has been lately held at Montreal, attended by upwards of two thousand of the most respectable and influential citizens, whereat were unanimously and gravely passed the following resolutions. Read them.

1st. Moved by John Wilson, Esq., seconded by Arthur Buckley, Esq.,

"That judging from recent events in the neighboring Republic, it is not improbable that a distant and as this meeting doubts not, that those favorable to True Liberty, both civil and religious, would gladly avail themselves of an opportunity of dissolving a connexion with men of habits and feeling diametrically opposed to their own, that the approaching rupture affords them a favorable occasion of securing them an alliance with our peaceful Colony."

2d. Moved by Archibald Home, Esq., seconded by Edward Drennon, Esq.,

"That a correspondence be opened through the Constitutional Committee, with such States nearest to our geographical position and the tone of political feeling generally evinced by them, would be likely to appreciate such a change."

3d. Moved by Stephen Hall, Esq., seconded by Bessie McCracken, Esq.,

"That impressed with this conviction, it becomes our imperative duty to hold out the right hand of fellowship to our brethren in the Northern Republics, &c."

4th. Moved by James Curlew, Esq., seconded by William Davidson, Esq.,

"That in the opinion of this meeting, the boundary between the British possessions and the American States best calculated to establish permanent peace, and to maintain the integrity of the city of New York, extending along the southern boundary of the State of New York, to its junction with the northern boundary of the State of Ohio, and thence following the same along the northern boundary of the State of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri, thence following the 43d parallel of latitude to the Pacific Ocean."

THE WHITE HORSE OF THE PRAIRIES.—A correspondent of the New York Spirit of the Times, writing from Texas, gives the information that the celebrated White Horse of the Prairies, seen by Kendall and other travelers, has at last been caught alive. The letter-writer says:

I saw him a prisoner, tied by one leg, deprived of his freedom, and visited by many as a natural curiosity. He is a fine animal, about 14 hands high, well proportioned, and built a good deal after the pattern of a Castagna No. 2. His head and neck are really beautiful—perfect Arabian—face-simile of the Godelphin, fresh and a little as large as any I have seen in my blood. His beautiful white mane is two feet long, and his foretop in proportion. He was very much lacerated about his head and legs, the effects of the lasso in catching him. From his appearance he must be quite old—any 20 or 25.

LENDING WIVES.—The farmers of the upper Alps, though by no means wealthy, live like lords in their houses; while the heaviest portion of the agricultural labor devolves on the wife. It is no uncommon thing to see a woman yoked to the plough, along with an ass, while the husband sits at ease. A farmer of the Upper Alps accounts it an act of politeness to lend his wife to labor for a neighbor, who is too much oppressed with work, and the neighbor, in return, lends his wife for a few days work whenever the favor is requested.

Re-Election of the President.—A writer in the Edinburgh Review speaks thus of our Presidential elections:

The American President is elected for only four years, but he is then re-eligible. Washington allowed himself to be re-elected once, but not oftener. The example has been generally followed. No President has served more than eight years; but every one has been a candidate at the end of the first term of four years, and many of them have succeeded. The consequence is, that the first business of every President is to secure his re-election. To raise his own party and depress his opponents—to dismiss the whole body of Executive officers, and supply their places with his own partisans—to support slavery, if he be strong in the South, or Abolition if his strongholds lie in the North—be a free-trader in the one case, and a protector of domestic industry in the other—to favor the great moneyed institutions if they support him—to destroy them, at the risk of paralyzing the whole commerce and industry of the country, if they oppose him—to be litigious, insolent, and unkind in his diplomacy, if his friends be among the dealers in arms or in privateers, or among manufacturers anxious to engross the home market—to be pacific if he rely on the importers of plantation supplies, and the exporters of cotton and tobacco; but, under all circumstances, to keep the language stiff, the prejudices inflamed, the passions and obey the orders of the mass of the people. Such are the occupations in which every President spends the first four years of his reign, and, if he be not re-elected, the whole.

A SWIMMING FEAT.—The Sandwich Island Friend, of October 1st, gives a remarkable account of a swim lately effected in those waters. It runs thus:

"On the 28th of September, Stephen Dresser, who belongs to Portland, Maine, was taken on board the wharf ship New Bedford, in the harbor of Honolulu. He reports that, one evening, of the 23th he jumped overboard from the 'London Packet,' having taken from the captain's boat his life preserver. On Saturday morning he could just discern the loom of the mountains of Oahu. After swimming all day, at the end of the two o'clock gun he was abreast of the men of war, in the outer harbor—after getting upon the reef he tried to walk, but the surf and waves dashed him along, and at the time of being picked up was nearly insensible—having been in the water thirty or more hours! He reports that he left the London Packet on account of ill usage and that the crew were disorderly."

CHANGE OF CLIMATE.—Your wife is extremely ill, sir, said a physician to one of our citizens, "and unless she experiences a change of climate she will die."

"What was the examination," well she shall experience a change of climate."

This was a month ago. Yesterday, the physician who imagined that his lady patient was on her way to a distant land, was astonished to see her in Broadway looking very pale and thin. He enquired of her husband's counting-room, the physician said angrily—

"Your wife is dying, sir—she will

The River.—The Pittsburg Journal of Saturday last says: "Last evening at dark, there were 8 feet 6 inches water in the channel and rising rapidly. We look for a rise of several feet more. We have had a steady warm rain, during the greater part of the last forty-eight hours. The ice gave way at Brownsville on Wednesday, but had not reached here last evening, though hourly expected. We have sufficient water for the largest class of boats, to carry out full loads. During the next few days a number of coal boats will leave for below. The Cincinnati packets will commence their regular trips this morning. We look for the Brownsville Packet to commence on Monday next."

At this point the water has begun to recede.
