One officer who had drawn a blank, actually smuggled himself the impracticability of getting over the bar. We are surprised to hear persons complaining of the conduct of Com. The obstacles to the success of his enterprises are plain, palpable and insurmountable. Did he persist, in the face of such difficulties, the inglorious fate of Capt Carpender would be his. Notwithstanding the most diligent search, nothing could be found of the intended assassin, and we understand that Mr. T. has been unable, thus far, to obtain any clue to the mystery. Several strangers got on the boat at Louisville, and probably the impression that Mr. Trotter had a large amount of money with him was the incentive to the attempted murder. The ball, which has been preserved, is evidently from a revolver .- N. O. Tropic.

OFFICIAL DESPATCHES FROM GEN. TAYLOR.

HEAD QUARTERS ADMY A OCCUPATION CAMP NEAR MONIEREY, Oct. 9, 1846.

SIR: I have now the honor to submit a detailed report of the recent operations before that city. The information received on the route from Ceralvo, and particularly the continual appearance in our front of the Mexican cavalry which had a slight skirmish with our advance at the village of Ramas, induced the belief, as we approached Monterey, that the enemy would defend that place. Upon reaching the neighborhood of the city on the mor ning of the 19th of September, this belief was fully confirmed. It was ascertained that he occupied the town in force; that a large work had been constructed commanding all the northern approaches; and that the Bishop's Palace and some heights in its vicinity near the Saltillo road, had also been fortified and occupied with troops and artillery. It was known from information previously received that the east in approaches were commanded by several small works in the lower edge of the city. The configuration of the heights and gorges in the direction of the Salvillo road, as visible from the point attained by our advance on the morning of the 19th September, led me to suspect that it was practicable to man's brigade, though suffering most severe- and discovered that a portion of Gen. The former superintended the mortar service on the 221, as particularly menioned in the report of General Worth, to which I also refer for the services of the engineer and topographical officers detached with the second division.

Surgeon Craig, medical director, was actively employed in the important duties of his department, and the medical staff generally were unremitting in their attentions to the numerous wounded-their duties with the regular regiments being rendered uncommonly arduous by the small number serving in the field.

Major General U. S. A. Com. The ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY, Washington, D. C. HEADQUARTERS FIRLD DIVISION VOLUNTEERS. Monterey, September 30, 1846. Sin: Parsuant to the instructions of the major-general commanding, on the 21st inst, at about 8 o'clock, a. m., I marched my division (with the exception of one company from each infantry regiment, left to guard the camp) and placed it in order of battle, under cover, immediately in rear of the mortar and howitzer battery, my left resting on the main road to Monterey. I had been in position but a short time when I received the general's further orders to move as speedily as practicable, with three regiments, to the support of Gen. Twigg's division, then engaged in an attempt to carry the enemy's first battery on our left. To expedite this movement I marched the three nearest regiments, commanded respectively by Cols. Davis. Campbell, and Mitchell by the left flank, leaving Col. Ormsby to sustain the batte-ries. Finding the rifle regiment in front that of Col. Campbell was ordered to take its place. The two last mentioned regiments constituting Gen. Quitman's, first brigade, he took the immediate command of them, and moved off with spirit and promptness in the direction indicated by the enemy's line of fire. Having seen Gen Quitman's brigade fairly in motion. I turned my attention to that of General Hamer, now consisting of the Ohio regiment only. Pursuing the instructions of the major-general, Lielt my way gradually, without any knowledge of the localities, into that part of the city bordering on the enemy's continuous line of batteries, assailed at every step by heavy fires in front and flank. After having traversed several squares, I met Major Mansfield, the engineer who had conducted the move ment of Gen. Twigg's division on the first battery.-He informed me of the failure of that attack and advised the withdrawal of my command, as there could no longer be any object in advancing further, warning me at the same time that if I anvanced I must meet a fire that would sweep before it. Knowing the major-general commanding to be but a short distance in the rear. I galloped back and communicated this information, in consequence of which he gave the order to retrogade, and the movement was commenced accordingly. In a short time, however, it was known that Gen. Quitman's brigade had not only stormed the battery in question, but had also carried a stone house of considerable strength connected with the first, and occupied by the enemy's infantry. The direction of Gen. Hamer's brigade was at once changed, and the city re-entered by another route, which, after about a half hour's march under a destructive fire, felt assured it would have been unten-Accordingly, the division, General Hamer, on whom devolved the command, moved to a new position near the captured fort, and within sustaining distance of our field batteries on the left. The troops remained in and near this position, and under fire of the enemy's batteries until late in the day. For the details of the after proceedings of the day, I refer to Gen. Hamer's report.

Frequent signals bement in detail of the loss sustained by the tween the different posts of the enemy during the night kept us on the alert; and at the first dawn of day on the 23d, it was discovered that the enemy had abandoned or were abandoning, the strong works near-est to us.

Colonel Davis, with a portion of his command, supported by Lieut. Col. Anderson with two companies of the Tennessee resiment, was ordered to take possession of the works. This was promptly done. The enemy had withdrawn their artillery during the night, and nothing of value fel into our hands but some prisoners and ammunition. From this work, which commanded a view of the city, we perceived another half moon or triangular redoubt in during the remaining days of our attack advance of us, and on our right, which appeared to be immediately connected with heavy stone buildings and walls adjoining pied and the services rendered by the 2d the block of the city. I was not on the defences of the city in this direction, and, if deemed practicable, to occupy them. It was sufficiently apparent that all to great credit for the courage, energy, and the approaches to the city on this side were strongly fortified. CONGRESS

Meets on Monday next. The President's Message is looked for with unusual anxiety. We expect to be able to lay it before our readers in next week's Register. We expedition. shall not undertake to guess at its contents, except a labored effort to justify the Mexibeen conducted, and a recommendation for at the town of Tabasco on the 26th ult, an increased revenue.

A correspondent of the Ohio Press, a by authority paper, printed in Columbus, n noticing a speech of Danlel Webster deivered some weeks ago at Loston, says; Dan then goes into a formal calculation of the expenses of the war, and sums it up at $60,000,000 per annum." The writer then makes some calculations of his own, pased in part upon an estimate made by Lord Wellington, of the expense of supporting a certain number of British soldiers, and exultingly exclaims: "So then, instead of $60,000,000 being required to maintain the war, it will be found to dwindle down to one twentieth of that sum." It will hardly be possible for the correspondent or the Editor of the Press, by any process of cyphering they can adopt, even war, with a mere handful of half starved Indians, cost the government at least ten goose can be made believe it. When the war is ended and the account is footed up, the people will find that three millions a war with Mexico, insignificant as some may consider it. The expenses of the war with Mexico will not be less for the same length of time, than were those of the late war with Great Britain, and the sacrifice of life, owing to the unhealthiness of the climate, will be much greater, as all will see and acknowledge before it is ended. War against Great Britain was declared in 1812; and the treaty of peace was signed in December, 1814, but the war did not fully terminate for several weeks-say three months after that time; making the whole period of that war about two years and nine months. And what were the expen ses of it! Let those who contend or assert with Mexico can be maintained for three millions of dollars a year, or even five times that sum, ascertain what the war with Great Britain cost, and they will soon see how fallacious are their calculations and its importance requires that a garrison of five or six hundred men should be sent to deceive us, the expense of the British war was about $150,000,000-somewhere in the neighborhood of fifty millions a year; and he who lives to see the end of the Mexfor the same length of time, that of the war

ATTACK ON TABASCO, A portion of the Gulf Squadron, under ommand of Commodore Perry, appeared before Tabasco on the 25th October, and demanded the surrender of the place. The inhabitants were in favor of surrendering; but the Governor and the soldiery refused to surrender. The main object of the expedition was to cut out certain vessels, which was entirely successfull. They captured one brig, three schooners, and one large sloop; and captured one schoone before they arrived at Frontera, and another on their passage up the river, in all one brig, five schooners, two steamers, one sloop, and many small crafts and lighters. The place was bombarded for some time by the fleet, but did not surrender, although a white flag was hoisted the Governor refused to let the women and children leave the town, and Commodore Perry was apprehensive that more of them were killed than soldiers, and not having a force sufficient to man his prizes and garrison the fort, he withdrew with his prizes. The following is Com Conner's account of the affair to the Navy Depart-

Sir: Herewith is transmitted a copy of letter from Com. Perry, accompanied by copies of other communications, giving detailed account of his operations with a detachment from the squadron in the river of Tabasco. The objects of the expedition ave been fully accomplished, and, by the destruction or capture of all the enemy's vessels, a check has been given to a commerce, by which munitions of war were no doubt, introduced into Mexico from the neighboring province of Yucatan. POST MASTER AT WILLIAMSTOWN.-We happened in at the Post Office in Williamstown the other day, and was surprised and grieved to see the total want of care and attention about the establishment. He states in his article that he "saw a pack; age of letters for some other office lying on the floor among dirt, mud, old paper, &c. A remark as to the motive of the Warsaw nan, in making the charge, and I am done. Now the secret of the whole matter, I suppose, (agreeable to the information received) is this-a short time since Mr. Yerkes did some printing for the Masonic Lodge at Williamstown, consisting of a number of pamphlets, which he, contrary to the instructions given him (through ignorance of having to pay postage on them) sent them by mail, and our Post Master, whom he complains so much about, for not attending to his duties, required him to fork over to Government the amount of four dollars and upwards. Now, I say to the public, if Mr. Doud, our Post Master, had suffered this Warsaw Editor to cheat the Government out of this amount, and his informant had not been quite so smart in giving items, that the Post Master in Wilthan the most tasteful palace, and our Post Master the finest fellow this side of the Blue Licks. Sales, indeed, of nearly all descriptions of merchandise are now very regular at good rates. Prices generally are firm. prices. Flour, Whiskey and Sugars, are the only exceptions; -and a very common opinion is that the first and last of these three articles will soon rule still lower than now. With active shipnents here, we may expeat higher freights; with: the Mississippl and all its tributaries above the mouth of the Olfio rising, we may look for a great outpouring of produce from points nearer New Orleans than Cincinnati is; and with Flour Brls at 40a45c apiece, we must soon be stocked from neighboring towns and the surrounding country, when they will recede to their usual price. These three things alone, the second and their efforts until the "poor slave" can, at third of them especially, not to mention others that could be named are doubtless from this time to add their weight to the causes which bave been for the past three weeks dragging Flour down. And under these circumstances, farmers will have to make up their minds, probably very soon, to a further reduction in the price of Wheat. Birney's Tonic Febrifuge. A Certain Cure of Fever and Ague.

HE demand upon the Proprietors for their unfailing Remedy for that terror of all new untries, has become so great, that they have determined to put it into the reach of all per ons in the United States. In no instance has it failed to produce a spee dy and effectual cure, with a perfect restoration of general health. It is prudent in most cases to continue the use of this Medicine for several days after it has been checked.

The Indians of our country, especially those removed from the haunts of man, have long been nown to possess the art of curing by extracts if simple herbs and roots, diseases which have buffled the skill and experience of the most em inent Physicians; - a long residence in the In dian country of the North, and among the different wild tribes of the Prairies, has enabled he Proprietor of the Febrifuge to present a rem edy which must command the gratitude of all in-dividuals suffering from Fever and Ague.

Since the discovery of the principal ingredi-ent as an active principle in the speedy and certain cure of Fever and Ague, no remedy as a substitute has equalled it although from the dificulty of its preparation many have been tried oy eminent physicians.

MLAYTON'S BALOON VOYAGE, AND HIS DESCENT UPON THE WATER -R. CLAYTON has made another trip to the east and has just returned with a spleadid stock of Gold and Silver Watches, Jewelry, Watch Tools and Materials, Dentist Files, Silver Ware, erome's best Brass Clocks, &c. &c. Numerous Watch Makers and Dealers in Jew TRENGTHENING BITTERS—An excelelry from the interior of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa and Mississippi, can testify that they have bought Watches and can testify indicates a second to be a second to bought the like in the east, and some articles such as Gold Pencils, Gold Chains, Thimbles Watch Glasses, Quelet's Mainsprings, &c., a from 5 to 10 per cent less than they paid for such New York and Philadelphia.

The way that he accomplishes this great revolution in the price of goods, is by buying extensively with Cash of the defferent manufacturers then selling for cash and nothing else bu h. Not even the wealthiest portion of th community can get a single article of him or credit. They might promise to pay to a day or two, and of course their pay would some time or other be certain; but this promise and this certainty of getting the money, although they would satisfy most tradesmen, would not answer Clayton's purpose; for that day or two might be so months, which would make the interest of the amount purchased more than balance the small profits he puts on his goods. The fact then stares every one in the face hat by having no expense in book keeping, no expense in money collecting, and no bad debts whatever, R. C. can do wonders in the way of selling cheap. Cash System is becoming daily more ad milted. It divests trade of care and anxiety it holds out no temptation to cheat or syindle it allows a man with a small capital to compete, nay even undersell the most sillendid establishnay even undersell the most splendid establishment built upon Credit, and it will make him popular; and will speak well of him, except it be a few short sighted, envirous competitors, and even their slander will help to increase his business. In short, the Cash System is the honest inan's good to wealth.

amity with Mexica, after what has happened, without a slice of her territory? And supposing she yields as much territory as we to be satisfied with, will that end the matter? Will there be no strife, no contention after that? Let the treaty be made and signed and sent to the Senate, it must receive the approbation of two-thirds of that body, or it will be a dead letter, blown to the winds, made null and void!

Will two-thirds of the Senate vote for it, unless there shall be in it a clause prohibiting the existence of slavery in the newly acquired territory? On the other hand, will twothirds of the Senate vote for the treaty if it does contain a clause of such a prohibitory

It is well enough to look this whole matter full in the face, and for every lover of his country and the prosperity of this glorious, but shockingly abused, Union, to ask himself what dangers this war with Mexico is fraught with! It it shall result in the dissolution of the Union-which Heaven forbid!-let himwho brought it on, be overwhelmed with the terrible responsibility of the act!

The message of Mr. Polk will be looked for with very great anxiety all over the country. I am informed that he will be very stubborn on the subject of the Tariff, and take high ground in favor of the act of 1846. It is said that two Locofoco editors from Pennsylvania waited on him a short Time since, and broached the subject of the Parist; but he was inexorable. Very likely he was, and very likely he may be in his forthcoming message to Congress. It is quite possible that he will stand out on the Tariff as he did on the Oregon question, until the next Congress assembles, when he will submit the subject for its decision, as he did that of Oregon to the Senate. If Congress chooses to take the responsibility of repealing the act of 1846, why, he will give the measure his sanc-

He will want to see the complexion of the next Congress, however. And who can doubt that the popular branch of it will be Whig? It must be, if the Whigs do but half their duty in the States yet to elect. How they ought to unite and exert themselves in Old ionable style. Virginia, for example, where they have every thing to gain and nothing to lose! Four-teen Locofocos to one Whig! Shall this be so any longer? The Whigs all over the State in one universal shout say no!

And how is it to be in Indiana also? Shall the delegation any longer stand eight Locofocos to two Whigs? The Whig Hoosiers with one voice will say no! Let them remember a former occasion, when they with a mighty, a glorious, a patriotic effort, threw off the galling shackles of Locofocoism and returned Whigs to Congress from every district save one in the State! They have the same cause now that they had then-and a similar effort will be attended with a similar result! Who can doubt, then, that the Whigs of the Hoosier State will make the

Mr. Beaumont, the new Commissioner of Public Buildings, is turning out and putting in office according to the progressive Locofo co style. It is reported that Major Noland the late incumbent, had the positive promise of Mr. Polk that he should not be molested in his office. Well, what of it, did not Dr. Mingie, the proscribed Postmaster at Petersburg, have a similar positive promise, with the editor of the official organ and the Hon. John Y. Mason to back him? What are such positive promises good for?

The Conner and Van Ness case as it progreeses looks more and more queer. There is no conjecturing where it will end. POTOMAC.

EXPLOSIVE COTTON.

The following note from Mr. George W. Andrews, one of the best practical chemists of Baltimore, gives the mode pursued by him in manufacturing the explosive cotton recent-ly discovered in Germany. It will be seen, A. differs from the recipe recently published. We have tried the cotton thus prepared, and found it to act precisely like gunpowder.

Perhaps it may be proper to add, that the ticle that can be decotton thus prepared is more dangerous than the above diseases. ordinary gui powder, and it will explode by exposing it to too great a heat when drying Dr. T. N. Wise, corner of Scottand 4thats. by a stove. The nature of gunpowder is so well known that all who use it are very careful. The appearance of the prepared cotton is so similar to the article in its raw state, that persons are very apt to become careless in handling it. Hence we should not be surprised to hear of serious accidents from its use; we hope these hints, which we throw out by way of caution, will induce all who use the explosive article to be duly careful The following is Mr. Andrews' recipe: -Cin.

Gen Cotton.-After repeated experiments sive, having prepared it with acids of different strengths, I have, from the results obtained; arrived at this conclusion, viz: That the Nitric acid employed must be in the most concentrated form. The acid used by me most successfully, was of the specific gravity 1,522. This was mixed with an equal quantity (by measure) of Commercial Sulphuric Acid, then immersed for one minute, in the above sonable terms. mentioned mixture of Nitric and Sulphuric Acids. Having pressed from the cotton as much as possible of the acid absorbed by it. (between plates of glass) I washed it repeatedly in water, until no acid taste remained: then having separated the fibers, it was dried with a gentle heat.

Cotton thus prepared resembles much in appearance wool of fine quality, and leaves residuum when burnt upon paper. Having loaded a pistol with two grains of the above, a ball was projected with such Geo. Bruce & Co., and John T. White, New force as to pass through an inch board, burying itself three fourths of an inch deep in another: while with the same pistol, loaded with six grains of ordinary gunpowder, the ball barely entered the first board.

"THE CONVENTION." oposals for publishing a paper in Frankfort

Can any one tell how our Government is to get out of the war with Mexico? It is an easy matter for an ambitious, weak or unwise President to get the country into a war, even without the aid of Congress, although the Constitution prohibits the act,—but to get it out of a war when once in, is not the most feasible task in the world!

Will we consent to a treaty of peace and amity with Mexica, after what has happened, without a slice of her territory? And supwithout a slice of her territory? tice the abuses in many, if not all of them, in order to show that they are attributable in part, at least, to the defective organization of the government under the present Constitution, and consequently the necessity and importance of its revision. It will therefore, expose all such abitses-examine all measures and questions in reference to State policy calculated to affect injuriously the interests of the people of this Co monwealth. From the expression of public sentiment upon this subject at the late elections, it may reasonably be anticipated that our next Legislature will pass a law in conformity with the provisions of the Constitution, authorising a vote to be taken as to the propriety of calling a Convention to revise the Constitution. In this event, the constitutional majority will be required in favor of a convention at the two succeeding elections. But should it not be passed at the coming session in obedience to the will of the people thus expressed, the question will still be open for consideration and discussion during the next canvass. In this view of the question a present, it is proposed to publish this paper rom the first of January until the next elections, and one number afterwards, giving the re-turns, in full; sits, continuation longer will, of course, very much depend upon the favor with which it may be received by the people. The undersigned proposes to use every exertion to render his paper useful and interesting, as well as to promote the success of the Convention question, and therefore hopes to receive a patri ronage sufficient to enable him to condent it successfully. The proposed paper will bear the name of the cause it advocates.
